SAYS TRUST IS AFTER ALL POWER

And whoever dominates power dominates all industry. Have you ever seen a few drops of oil scattered on the water spreading until they formed a continuous film, which will not sink and will not evaporate? The time for us to appraise this question is now before the separate clouds of centralized control spread into the misty uncertainty of a nation-wide confusion of a single gigantic trust. There will be little chance for more agitation after that. No man at all familiar with the situation can doubt that the time for effective protest is very short. If we do not use it to protect ourselves now, we may be too late to do it later. We will give hereafter small consideration to the welfare of the average citizen when in conflict with its own.

Fight to Finish

"The man who really counts is the plain American citizen. This is the man for whom the Roosevelt policies were created, and his welfare is the end to which the Roosevelt policies lead. As a nation we are fortunate at this time in this fact above all others, that the great man who gave his name to these policies has for his success, in the great President, whose administration is most solemnly pledged to the support of them. "I stand for the Roosevelt policies because they set a common goal of all of us above the private gain of some of us. The small man is more important to the nation than the profit of the big man, because the one whose selfishness is at present at the cost of robbing the future, because the demand of the complete, sane and orderly development of our natural resources is not forgetting our rivers, because they insist upon equality of opportunity and denounce monopoly and special privilege; because, discarding false issues, they deal directly with the vital questions that really make a difference with the welfare of us all; and most of all, because in them the plain American citizen and everywhere holds the first place. And I propose to stand for them while I have the strength to stand for anything."

Orville Wright Sails for Germany

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—Orville Wright sailed today for Germany, where he will take a series of flights to comply with the arrangements made last winter with the company organized for the manufacture of the Wright airplane in that country. He will be accompanied on a mission which he would not discuss.

MELROSE HIGH SCHOOL OPENS AUGUST 23

The John C. Fremont High school, at Melrose, will open on August 23. Mr. Rescort, the principal, is away on a vacation to Europe. Mrs. R. Gray, vice-principal, will take his place until he returns. All students who wish to enroll will kindly report at the High school between the 14th and 28th of August.

2000 AND MORE OF MINERS GO ON STRIKE

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 10.—The labor troubles in the coal mines of this province further increased today when about 2000 employees of the Cumberland Railway and Coal Company went on strike at the mines of the company here following the refusal of their employers to accede to their demands, principally the recognition of the union.

OLEY REPORTED MISSING

John Oley, residing at 157 Twenty-fifth avenue, is reported to the police as missing. He left home on August 9 and has not been seen since. He was 30 years of age.

Bladder Troubles Need Prompt Attention.

Perhaps you don't know how much work a healthy bladder does for you. It is the organ of the body that is most important. Do you know that on these important organs hinges good health? Many an apparently strong, healthy man or woman has been stricken without notice by serious kidney and bladder disease, only to realize too late what might have been prevented with proper care and attention. Some of the early symptoms of weak kidneys and bladder are: backache, rheumatism, aching in the back, joints or muscles, at times having headache or indigestion, dizziness, you may have a yellow complexion, purty or dark circles under the eyes, sometimes feel as though you had heart trouble, may have plenty of ambition but no strength, get weak and waste away. If you find you have some of the symptoms mentioned, you need then a remedy that will reach the seat of the disease and at the same time build up the system generally. Such a remedy is Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy. In thousands of cases it has accomplished just the work you need performed now. Sample Bottle of Swamp-Root Free by Mail.

Send to Dr. Charles C. Co., Birmingham, N. Y., for a sample bottle. It will convince anyone. You will also receive a booklet of valuable information, telling all about the kidneys and bladder. When writing be sure and mention the OAKLAND DAILY TRIBUNE. For sale at all drug stores. Price fifty cents and one dollar.

VIRGILIA BOGUE, PORTOLA QUEEN, WRITES TORRID NOVEL TEEMING WITH HOT KISSES AND EMBRACES

BOOK DEPICTS SOUL STRUGGLE, SHE SAYS

American Wife's Love for Italian Artist Told in Plain Terms, With Torrid Osculations Punctuating Tale

Hot with the molten fire of passion and slashed with lurid scenes of renunciation and desire, is the novel from the pen of Miss Virgilia Bogue of San Francisco, California's fairest woman, who has been chosen because of her beauty, queen of the fete of Portola. Coming now when the young authoress, still a girl in years, is so distinctively a child of public interest, a figure in the limelight of general events, the book, calculated to tear into shreds the prudery of pruders at any time, is destined, there can be no doubt, to lead in literary interest of the day, claiming more than the average quota of criticism and interest. The book is published under the name "The Strength to Yield."

It is the story of a young married woman's love for an artist, a libertine famed for his conquests of the slave of his amours. There is nothing original in the tale, which has been the basic construction for novels without end; books which have shocked the reading public for day and then been forgotten, but Miss Bogue has added a few new scenes and a warmth which add a dizzy situation to the otherwise commonplace.

On Heredity

"It is not much of a plot; it is more of a psychological study of heredity," the authoress says of her work. "The mother and grandmother of the heroine, Mrs. Van Lennep, had been obsessed by a mad idea. The same mania is in her blood, and environments and to develop it."

Story From Life

"In portraying my principal characters I have drawn from life—that is, I have taken the most prominent traits of certain persons I know and used them, weaving them into other traits so that the originals will not be recognizable. In fact, I cannot tell you I have drawn from life. The story begins at Athens at the time of the Olympic games. Here is the introductory scene as depicted by Miss Bogue in her opening chapter: "The longed-for sunset before them, gleaming in the sunset in its wealth of Pontic marble. From far away, perhaps beyond Apollo's temple, or some field of aspen or poppy, came the bleating of sheep. "Oh, Doris," she cried, "climb the high steps, oh, to be free, free! To be a drag in the Arcadian age, with all of forest liberty and never a city or law. Can you hear the piping of some goat-herd as he sings to the wood-nymphs? Like the sleep."

"The dropped parasol and gloves and stretched a slender white arm toward the red purple glow of the sunset and the delicate glows and blues of the Cyprians and cried: "Descending fast the mountain shadows lie. Thy glorious grief, unconquered Salamis."

"To me this temple is more sacred than St. Peter's and far more awe-inspiring. I feel as if I should kneel here, but I think not altogether, for at this hour I seem to remember. "I can tell you I lived here once long ago; it may be the mere recollection of a fadema, a novel of poem here and there, but I think just that. Women must have watched the battle of Salamis from this very porch."

"Oh, Doris," she said, "the ships, and there the long walls of the Piræus."

"All is still as now, and around us are the shades of Jorian women watching intently in their soft robes."

"The temple is whole again. Within, her toiled statues, many are kneeling before the chrysephantine statue of Athena, praying for fathers and lovers. The voluptuous scent of incense reaches us here, and we are singing out of the greatest battles of time to the setting of the sun and the bright Levantine skies."

Jealous Husband
The party at the Parthenon broke up and returned to the hotel. As Doris Van Lennep and her husband passed through the corridors she fancied too many heads were turned in their direction. It was not long before she was alone. A few minutes later she arranged some crimson flowers in a bowl which bore the card, "Comte Henri de Glamont," saying both:

"Dirty rags, foreigners—the whole crowd! Dashed dirty cuds!"

Doris bent her head over the Greek roses, inhaling their sweetness, and smiled.

In the Athens party besides Doris Van Lennep and her husband, Harry, was Roxanne Barker, an American party, middle age and married, Miss Grace North and her mother. It was to Barker that Doris Van Lennep in the second chapter confessed the unhappiness of her own married life.

"For some reason Barker takes more than a passing interest in Doris. The reason for this appears later on in the story. He warms her against drifting away from her husband."

Warns Wife
His warning is worthy of being quoted: "Don't you see, Mrs. Van Lennep, your husband is incapable of living in your world. He is capable of living in his. You have something of the Italian, of the Renaissance, in your beauty and no thought or care for the real, practical needs of life."

"But you have brains and an amount of adaptability. He is typical of modernity—a man of good family, with little cultivation, but much love for you."

"Every day and every hour that you keep on developing and expanding according to your nature, you will find life harder to endure, and you and your husband will drift further apart. There will be nothing left but—calamity."

In the next chapter Doris refuses to return to New York with her husband, pleading a desire to visit Venice with Grace North and her mother. Barker at once declares that he, too, must see Venice before returning to New York, although his plans had not included a visit to the Bride of the Sea.

Doris and the Norths go to Venice with Barker they were in a gondola enjoying their first moonlight ride. The Lazzaro rose from the crystal lagoon, a study in red and green—the red brick of its domes and green olives and cypresses of its gardens. The silver light stretched along the horizon in a straight angle.

Another gondola approached so near that its occupants became distinguishable. A woman in soft brown silk was holding a Pomeranian spaniel. Beside her was a man whose nationality it would be difficult to guess.

As the boat neared another the two women exchanged lightning glances, but before Doris knew that Barker had bowed the gondolas had sped past each other. In her mind was the impression of a woman slightly faded, English perhaps, and a man in the late thirties.

"Lady Blanchard," remarked Barker. "Have you ever seen her before?"

"Indeed was it? And the other? His face is strange."

"That is Paolo Cennari, the artist."

Impetuous Love
Cennari is the man in the story with whom Doris Van Lennep falls hopelessly in love. From the time she met him on through all the remaining chapters the love story sweeps with an impetuous characteristic of warm Italian sunniness and brilliant things.

The climax of the story comes when Harry Van Lennep writes from New York telling his wife to come home. Doris, her soul linked to the soul of Paolo Cennari, rebels but she decides to go. "The big scene is her attempt to say goodbye to Paolo in her studio. She enters and he kneels before her, kissing both her hands."

"Oh, Doris," he said, "the faint, sweet perfume of you—Doris! I can think of nothing but your carved red lips. I kissed them once. Let me kiss them again. Any hope I might cherish is vanity, I know."

He was gently pulling her hands as if to make her kneel before him. She resisted and threw her head back.

"Oh, Paolo," she cried, "don't draw me on—and on, Paolo, can't you see I am fighting, struggling, against this new, unwelcome thing? No, dear, I will not kiss you. I will not. Don't you think that I also want to taste your lips again? I am strong, though, as woman must be, and you are strong and cruel. Let me go, while you still have a moment of respect for me. Let me go."

"I want to kiss you," he said. "I must kiss you. I will kiss you," artfully drawing her down to him."

She threw her head back as if to evade his kiss. He crushed her lips to his own, but found them unresponsive.

MISS VIRGILIA BOGUE, Portola Queen, Who Has Just Issued a Novel Which Promises to be a Sensation.

strained her slender body in his arms until she felt the fast rhythmic beating of his heart against her own.

"You love? Yet you will not give all?" she whispered brokenly. "I am not a child of snow. I am a woman of fire and dreams. Paolo, promise me you will always have the greater strength to save me. Remember, 'Amor!'"

"I am a brute, Doris, but I am of the mouth I love and hate intensely. You are cold—cold!"

"Don't be cruel, Paolo. You say I am cold? You dare to say I am cold after the kisses I have given you?"

"She picked up his hands, and kissed them till his flesh stung beneath her mouth. Then she caught his lips in a hard and cruel pressure."

"Cold? O, spiteful—some innocent girl," she gasped. "I could not help the strength to withhold. 'She felt his hands against his shoulder and looked up at him as to a god."

"'Endo, dear,' she whispered, 'it is not that I haven't the desire to give, but that I have the strength to withhold. What would desire be without it, Paolo?'"

"'Nothing matters to me but that pomegranate mouth of yours, like Rossetti's 'Pamora.' It is sinewy sweetness laid on mine turns my brain to fire. I am not a man who knows himself when I feel his burning pressure."

"And we must say goodbye. I shall never see you again."

"Save you again," he said softly.

Almost, Almost
"Save by accident," she repeated. T

Alexander M. Shields, an insurance man, expressed his opinion:

"It is a case of persecution, and not persecution. It has become persecution, and not persecution."

He was discharged together with A. S. Linn and John H. Hanlyan, who sided with the prosecution. Joseph O'Hara, retired, thought the case was enough and was also allowed to go.

Adjustment until 2 o'clock.

Yesterday's Session
At the opening of the proceedings to the Calhoun trial yesterday afternoon, two jurors temporarily passed, and the three others whose standing is still in doubt were excused until 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Frederick Lester, retired, declared that he had firm convictions regarding the present trial.

"Your mind is made up on the case now, is it?" inquired Attorney Stanley Moore.

"That's what it is," was the reply, and James C. Wilson, a retired cigar man, of 440 Post street, had also strong leaning in the case.

"Your mind is made up, is it?" asked Moore.

"Yes, my opinion is too strong; I don't hold it," replied the talesman. "I don't hold it for my part. Calhoun is free."

"There is no evidence in all the world to change your opinion, is there?" questioned Langdon.

"No, sir," was the reply, and Lester was released.

Patrick S. O'Rourke, a real estate man, was next.

"Nothing has been going on in this city as long as I can remember," he declared. But as he had no opinion, he was questioned further.

He was questioned further. He stated that he was acquainted with ex-Superintendent Harrigan, and had obtained the idea that he was grafting among the bondholders.

"Is that because of your acquaintance with Harrigan?" he was asked.

"I'm not talking that way. It's too personal," was the answer.

SAN FRANCISCO SOCIETY
SAN FRANCISCO, August 10.—The younger set who are getting a taste of future joys and partaking of them as boys and girls in their teens only can have two smart dancing parties on the tapis for tonight.

Miss Gertrude Thomas, the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Thomas, will entertain a score of her friends at the Hotel Rafael. Miss Thomas, a blithe and bonnie lassie, promises to be one of the foremost of next season's buds.

Miss Gertrude Thomas will be the hostess at a larger affair at her magnificent home at Woodside.

Her daughters, the Misses Cunningham, will receive their guests, who will number about fifty.

Miss Sadie American was the guest of honor at an elaborate breakfast given yesterday at the Hotel St. Francis. The feast was followed by a reception at the Forum Club. Hundreds availed themselves of this opportunity to meet the distinguished New Yorker, who is secretary of the National Council of Jewish Women, and as such is much interested in philanthropy in all its numerous phases.

For this noble cause, Miss American is not only willing to give her time and her remarkable ability, but her fortune as well.

Of all the charities that she is interested in, perhaps the one that appeals to her the most is the Bureau of Jewish Women, which she has helped to establish by the New York Council of Jewish Women to welcome and supervise the Jewish girls who arrive from Europe. A woman is at the dock to meet these young strangers in a strange land and give them a word of cheer and encouragement.

The hop last night at the Presidio in honor of the Misses Sule and Caroline Murray had the appearance of a ball more than any of the dances given since last winter and will go down on the social calendar as the "best hop of all."

The officers' club was artistically decorated with flags and palms and out of compliment to General and Mrs. Arthur Murray the wives of the officers were members of the evening party.

One of the prettiest dinners preceding the dance was given by Miss Claire Nichols in honor of Miss-a-Poo, son and Lieutenant Harold Taylor, Captain and Mrs. C. P. Hazzard, Captain and Mrs. March, and Lieutenant and Mrs. John C. Abbott were also dinner hosts and afterward took their guests to the dance.

The absence of Captain and Mrs. Adams, who left yesterday for the East, was noted with regret but otherwise the occasion was marked by the usual informal jollity.

General and Mrs. Murray and their charming daughters left today for Washington, D. C. A large crowd collected at the train to bid them "bon voyage."

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Clark and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas D. Dineen, accompanied by "Juke" (Harry) Simpson, left Saturday in the "Clarks" private car for the state of Montana where "Juke" and his wife are hunting for the "big game." "Juke" is a famous hunter and is expected to equal Roosevelt in his African campaign, and as the men of the party have world-wide reputations as hunters, we will not be surprised to hear that the mountain lions and the grizzlies will fall victims to their prowess.

FULL PROGRAM FOR SESSIONS ANNOUNCED

Excursion About Bay and Oakland Harbor to Be Feature of Gathering

TO TAKE AUTO TRIPS TO NEIGHBORING CITIES

Luncheon to Be Given in Piedmont Park and Reunion at Idora

The final meeting of the Oakland Real Estate Dealers' Association, before the coming convention of the California State Realty Federation, was held last night in the rooms of the association in the First National Bank building. There was a large attendance of members of the local organization and real estate dealers from Berkeley and Alameda, who thus showed their interest in the coming meeting of their professional brethren from all parts of the State. There was the greatest enthusiasm manifested and every person prophesied the grand success of the convention. Among the dealers present were:

P. T. Tompkins, J. J. Butler, G. C. Juster, W. P. Brown, E. C. Strick, John A. Macdonald, W. P. Nourse, C. J. Turrel, A. M. Cook, J. W. Austin, Eugene L. Brock, E. B. Bull, H. V. Martin, E. B. Bull, S. H. McVint, G. C. Davis, J. M. Perkins, S. J. Smith, S. J. Smith, R. A. Jackson, H. C. George, R. L. Nichols, W. C. Carter, William F. Brown, W. C. Holloway, R. J. Montgomery, W. C. Holloway, H. C. George, S. P. Whitely, P. A. Will, R. R. Patterson, Ed. Lerman, R. S. McHenry, T. E. Hayden, B. J. Walton, N. B. Patterson, C. H. Kiehl, R. C. Crosby, E. E. Frohbridge.

Interest in Meeting

The meeting was opened by the announcement of President Bryant of the Oakland Real Estate Dealers' Association that he was glad to see so many realty men from Berkeley and Alameda, as also of Oakland, in attendance. Their presence, he said, showed that they were taking a great deal of interest in the coming convention.

The members of the association, said G. C. Barnhart, were receiving letters daily from real estate men throughout the State, and the large majority of the letters set forth the determination of the writers to attend the convention.

A communication from W. G. Wood, of Taylor & Co. of Berkeley, announced that that firm was heartily in accord with the association in the forthcoming convention and that they would be among the attendants. Cooley, Langworthy and McCarthy of Berkeley assured the committee that if they could be of any assistance to the enterprise they would be glad to learn of the fact and would act accordingly.

Autos Offered

Then there was a call for volunteer automobiles for the purpose of showing the visitors through Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley and the interior of the county, and offers of machines were made by the Frank Mott Company, Harry L. Holcomb, Mr. Laven-son of the Lake House, Don M. Morris, the clothier, R. J. McMullen of the State Savings Bank, S. H. Masters offered three or four machines belonging to the Layman Realty Company. President Bryant said they were very much in need of autos, because

MEN ARE HELPLESS AS CHILDREN

When Taken Suddenly Ill—Here is a Common-Sense Remedy.

Big, strong men is as a helpless infant when he is suddenly ill. The sturdiest chap in town usually loses his self-control, and is utterly unable to regard his condition with the common sense that characterizes his every-day actions.

For example: He comes home tired, eats a heavy dinner and sits down to read and smoke away a quiet evening. Suddenly he notices a weight on his stomach, then sharp pains around his heart, and a feeling of suffocation. Thoughts of "heart disease" rush over him, and in his agony he fears the worst. His trouble was acute indigestion, brought on by overloading his tired stomach.

A couple of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets would have given him instant relief—would have saved him hours of suffering. Carry a package of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets in your vest pocket or keep them in your room. Take one after each heavy meal, and indigestion can never bother you again.

Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets cure stomach troubles by supplying the one element, the absence of which in the gastric juices, causes indigestion and dyspepsia. They enable the stomach to digest all kinds of food and to quickly convert it into rich, red blood.

We know what Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets are and what they will do. We guarantee them to cure indigestion and dyspepsia. If they fail we will refund your money.

riding facilities would have to be provided for at least 250 persons.

George Austin then offered the use of one, more auto, M. T. Minney two, Nat Crossley one, P. T. Tompkins of Mason & MacDuffie, Berkeley, one, Juster & Beard, Berkeley, one; F. V. Belvel, secretary of the Berkeley Real Estate Exchange, one. On motion of E. B. Bull it was decided to appoint a committee to canvass for the use of automobiles. E. E. Thowbridge offered one more machine, which would accommodate seven passengers.

$2500 Secured

The chair announced on the authority of Mr. Bull that $2500 had been secured to defray the expenses of the convention, and that still more money was coming.

Chairman Bull of the entertainment committee announced that the convention will surely be a success. The convention, he said, will be held in Maple Hall, opening next Thursday morning at 9 o'clock. At 8:45 o'clock on that morning there will be a meeting of the executive committee of the Federation. There will be a session until noon, when there will be a recess for lunch. The session in the afternoon will continue from 1 until 4 o'clock. In the evening, at the Scottish Rite Cathedral, there will be the grand banquet, at which all visiting real estate men will be guests.

Friday morning there will be a short session between 9 and 11 o'clock and, at the latter hour, there will be cars taken at the corner of Broadway and Twelfth streets for the Key Route mole, where a steamer will be boarded for a trip to Mare Island and all points of interest around the bay. The steamer will leave the pier at 11:30 o'clock and remain on the cruise till 4:30 o'clock. During the cruise lunch will be served. Ladies accompanying delegates are expected to join in the trip. A band will be on the steamer.

Election of Officers

Saturday morning there will be the election of officers, after which the convention will adjourn at 11 a. m. At that time autos will be taken for Berkeley. Luncheon will be served at Piedmont Park. Then there will be a run into the country, returning by High street and crossing thence into and driving through Alameda.

In Idora Park Saturday night there will be a grand reunion, to which delegates will be admitted free, and at which the Innes band will render a special program of classical and popular music.

To View Harbor

President Bryant stated that on the bay excursion the boat will be run as far to the south as the Union Iron Works, and that the visitors will be given an opportunity of viewing Oakland harbor. He expected that there would be 450 persons on the excursion.

George W. Austin, chairman of the committee on banquet tickets, said the work of his committee would begin today; that is, the selling of the tickets for the banquet to local merchants and manufacturers. He would like, he said, to have members volunteer to aid in disposing of some of the cards. There were about 750 of them, and as many as might be needed would be supplied to the volunteers. The tickets could be had at his office at $5 each, and the sale would be continued until Thursday night, the night of the banquet.

President Bryant said that the tickets ought to be sold, and sold quickly. He knew that merchants would not hesitate to make purchases liberally because they had not been asked to contribute anything directly to the fund for entertainment of the delegates. There should be an Oakland man on the side of every guest, whose duty would be to entertain the visitors and inform them of the advantages of this place.

Make Promises

T. E. Hayden said he would dispose of ten tickets.

Harry Holcomb said that he would like to have members to pledge themselves to sell a certain number of tickets. He promised to dispose of ten. C. A. Tyrell said he could handle six, E. B. Bull ten, M. T. Minney ten, R. A. Jackson ten, N. Crossley ten and S. H. Masters ten.

W. H. George announced that the headquarters of the Federation would be in the old Union National Bank office at the northwest corner of Broadway and Twelfth streets, which would be furnished and supplied with all accommodations by local concerns free of cost, as was published in THE TRIBUNE yesterday.

Harry Holcomb of the refreshment committee said Mr. Hallahan would supply a substantial lunch for the bay trip at a reasonable rate per capita.

G. C. Barnhart stated that every member of the Federation would receive a copy of an Oakland paper during the progress of the convention, whether he remained at home or came here in person, so that he could keep in touch with what was being done. He suggested that a committee be appointed to induce every business man in Oakland who has a flag to display the same above his place of business during the sessions of the convention.

Names Committee

President Bryant appointed as such committee S. H. Masters, John Perkins and Robert Jackson.

At the suggestion of E. B. Bull, J. Tyrell and C. C. Juster of Berkeley, it was decided that when the autos with the delegates were riding through the several cities, the line should be piloted by a dealer of the town which was under inspection. This was agreed to in order that the delegates could be driven through the most attractive spots under the guidance of a man who knew where to find them.

All real estate men in the city were requested to decorate their business places.

E. B. Bull announced that among the speakers at the banquet would be President Wheeler of the University of California, Senator G. C. Perkins and Congressman Knowland.

W. H. George announced that members of the reception committee would meet all main trains and direct delegates to the various hotels.

Short and encouraging addresses were then delivered by P. T. Tompkins, C. C. Juster, C. A. Tyrell, E. R. Simpson of Stormick, Iowa; G. C. Barnhart, and others, and then the meeting adjourned.

Banquet Tickets

Tickets for the banquet of the California State Realty Federation, which is to be held in Maple Hall, Thursday night next, are now available, and may be had at the office of George W. Austin on Broadway near Eleventh street. They are intended only for the public-spirited citizens of Oakland.

Members of the home real estate dealers will also call on local business men and offer them tickets for sale.

The committees in charge of the arrangements for the convention urgently request the donation of the use of automobiles on Saturday morning for the purpose of showing the delegates through this city, Berkeley, Piedmont, Alameda county and Alameda.

The autos will be employed only a few hours and it is deemed absolutely necessary that there should be at the disposal of the committee enough autos to carry at least three hundred delegates in order that when the latter return to their homes they may be able to tell of the wondrous beauty of this city and surroundings, as also of the possibilities of this section and of its unequalled climate.

A superabundance of automobiles will denote the liberality of the people of this city and will, in other ways, show up this section in a manner which must redound to the credit of the people and the progress of Alameda county.

This evening the work of putting the old building at the corner of Twelfth and Broadway in readiness for the delegates to the convention as headquarters will be commenced. The decoration will be practical in every manner and there will be nothing wanting in the way of accommodation to enable the visitors to feel that they are suffering no inconvenience by reason of their absence from home. Everything at the headquarters will be supplied free from expense. The place will be brilliantly lighted by night as well as by day. There will be telephones for the use of every delegate and there will be also a battery of typewriters with a number of operatives to work them as may be desired.

To Decorate Hall

Tomorrow Maple Hall, in which the convention will be held, will be placed under the hands of the decorator and before the time for the convention to assemble there will be a transformation made within and without the structure which will delight the eyes of every resident as well as of every visitor.

This work will be done under the direction and the watchful eyes of Mayor Frank K. Mott, who has announced that he will stand the expense of the work of garnishment. The mayor has good taste in work of this kind and there is no doubt that the decoration will be pleasing, attractive, beautiful and artistic.

President Carmichael of the California State Realty Federation, whose home is in Sacramento, together with a number of the State officers of the society, will arrive tomorrow night and will be quartered at the Hotel St. Mark. They will be met at the train by representatives of the local realty organization and will be informally entertained before the hour for retiring arrives.

There now remains little or nothing to be done for the purpose of carrying on the program which has been decided upon save to secure a sufficient number of automobiles to give the guests a ride and to sell enough tickets to show that the people of this city and vicinity have the same interest in the undertaking as have the men who are engaged in the realty business.

All Working Hard

There is not a man on any of the committees which have been making arrangements for this event which means so much for Oakland who has not been working with an enthusiasm which is worthy of the highest commendation, for the reason that it shows that the effort has been made because of unselfish motives.

One of these hard workers has been Mayor Mott, who has found time, notwithstanding his many engrossing cares of state and business, to attend to many details in this connection and in fact, he has been doing more or less on all the committees which have been appointed. With respect to the coming convention and its importance to this city and the citizens of Oakland, the Mayor said this morning:

"The State Convention of the real estate men to be held in Oakland next Thursday, Friday and Saturday, is a matter of great importance to every property owner in Oakland. The object of the Federation is to bring about a closer understanding among realty men and to encourage and promote the exchange or courtesies from one city to another.

"I believe, and I am not alone in my opinion, that Oakland will be considerably in the limelight from now on and of the thousands who come to California to buy lands, a great proportion of them will desire to see Oakland and Alameda County before settling down permanently.

For Fair Deal

"These people will naturally come in contact with real estate men throughout the State, probably before they ever reach Oakland, and if we can give these outside agents a comprehensive idea of what we have and can assure them that we will give their patrons a fair deal, we are going to enjoy the visit of a great many prospective settlers whom we wouldn't otherwise be honored with.

"The best way to impress these outside real estate men is to get them here right on the ground and take them around and show them our city. They will then return home enthusiastic over the treatment they have received and optimistic regarding the future of our city.

"We have much of interest to show them. Our plans on waterfront and park improvements should be explained to them, our geographical situation should be called to their attention and the wonderful progress we have made should be demonstrated, for such facts will be appreciated by these men as much as by any class of men I know of.

"Los Angeles, August 4. — I wired you that I would be present as you requested and by way of confirmation, I shall take great pleasure in being with you. I want to be at the convention and shall endeavor to bring a number of the Los Angeles boys with me.

"Please tell the other members of your board that, while their reputation as business men has always been established in this city, the number of personal invitations which the Los Angeles boys would have received would alone demonstrate that they were not only hospitable but thoroughly enterprising and wide awake. Los Angeles, you know, is built in the same stuff and that is really what is making the Pacific Coast cities of today so well and favorably known throughout the world.

SUMMER ILLS

The exhausting heat of the summer weather causes untold suffering and misery to thousands of men, women and children. Deaths occur on all sides from diarrhoea, dysentery, chills, cholera morbus, typhoid and other fevers, due in a great number of cases to impure water and the consumption of unripe fruits by those whose systems and stomachs are not in a healthy condition.

The many ills that come during the hot, sultry weather can be avoided by keeping the body strong and healthy with Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, the great body-builder.

If all were more careful to keep the system in a vigorous, healthy condition the germs of these diseases could not obtain a foothold. Leading doctors agree that Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey has no equal as a destroyer of poisonous germs in the body. It is endorsed by clergymen of every faith, nurses and doctors of all schools, as a positive cure for dyspepsia, indigestion, nervous prostration, all diseases of the throat and lungs; every form of stomach trouble; malaria, chills, fever and all run-down, weakened, diseased conditions of the body, brain and muscle. It is a heart tonic, blood purifier and promoter of health and long life; makes the old hale and hearty; the young vigorous and strong.

Tonic and Body Builder

"I have used Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey many years as a tonic and body-builder with the best results. My health is much improved. I am so pleased that I wish to let others know of this great medicine."—Frank A. Shower, Anniston, Ala.

If weak and run-down, take a teaspoonful four times a day in half a glass of milk or water.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is sold everywhere by druggists, grocers and dealers or shipped direct for $1.00 per bottle.

HUSBAND DRUNK

DAILY, SHE SAYS

Denies Wife's Charges and Accuses Her of Knocking Him Down

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 10.—Alleging that her husband has been drunk thrush for a year past, that once he hit her on the head with a hot frying pan, and that he is cruel in the habit of humiliating her in the presence of their children and friends, by profane language, Mrs. Phila M. Anderson started suit before Judge Connelley this morning for temporary alimony, pending divorce proceedings which she will shortly institute.

The couple were married in 1893, have three grown children and one minor, the last mentioned of whom she asks the custody.

Has Good Income

Mrs. Anderson told the court that Anderson has called on her every night for the past three years in an intoxicated condition. She says her husband has $7000 in real estate, and is in receipt of an income of $2000 per month, derived from the proceeds of a life insurance policy in which he is interested, and his salary as a solicitor for Tiltman & Bondell.

Pending the suit she was awarded $100 attorney's fees and $100 per month alimony.

Alleges Desertion

Anderson filed a cross complaint denying the allegations of his spouse. He says she owes him $4000 which he loaned her to take the four children on a trip to Sweden, and states that on November, 1908, she deserted him. He further alleges that in January, 1908, while he was sick and on crutches, she knocked him down, almost throwing him on a hot stove. He states that she entertained suit from three to five relatives, and that from his home at his expense, and that by their quarreling they made life for him a continual hell.

MACKIE ASKED TO RESIGN; DECLINES

Letter Sent to Director of Chamber of Commerce by President D'Evelyn

WILL FIGHT THE ISSUE WHEN MEMBERS MEET

Insists He Has Right to Ask For Financial Statement of Affairs

ALAMEDA, Aug. 10.—A letter demanding the resignation of Director Alexander Mackie of the Chamber of Commerce, was sent to Mackie today by Secretary Ralph A. Russell at the request of President F. W. D'Evelyn.

According to Section 1, Article 18, of the constitution of the Chamber of Commerce, "Any officer, whether elected or appointed, may be removed at any special or regular meeting of the board of directors by a majority of votes of the board, due notice having been given either personally or by mail to him and to each member of the board of directors."

Letters were sent to Mackie and to the board of directors today. The latter will vote upon the matter Thursday night in regular session. Mackie will be on hand to answer the charges against him and to combat the demand made upon him by the commercial organization.

Declines to Resign

When interviewed today Director Mackie said:

"No, I certainly will not resign. Under no circumstances I simply asked for a financial statement of the affairs of the Chamber of Commerce, and no one seems to feel the reflection alleged to have been cast by me on their honesty and integrity but Chairman D'Evelyn. I did not think that the Chamber of Commerce would go so far as asking me to resign. I received an insulting letter from the organization today. But I have every citizen in the city of Alameda to back me in my demand that I and the other residents of the city be shown a financial report of the Chamber of Commerce, and ask every citizen in the city of Alameda to be present at the meeting of the organization Thursday night to hear my answer to the charges made against me and to the demand for my resignation."

They are all interested in this proposition because it concerns the collection of public funds for the Fourth of July celebration.

The Chamber of Commerce claims jurisdiction over all this money, but I say that the people of Alameda and the Chamber of Commerce have no right to defray the expenses of this celebration and that they should know how their funds were expended. And they should be told Thursday night to see the accounting."

Mackie intimated that President D'Evelyn had a personal reason for taking the stand he has against him, but when asked if they were any past troubles, he said: "I and never met D'Evelyn until about eight months ago. Then I appeared before the Chamber of Commerce to introduce my salt water system to the organization, but D'Evelyn had a hot water heater of his own and he was promoting. This, of course would not weigh with me, and I only mention it to tell of our first meeting."

Malice Forethought

Mackie stated today that the affair of his resignation was an executive matter and the out of the Chamber of Commerce in allowing it to be published was done with malice aforethought.

He called particular attention to the quoting of Section 1, Article 12 of the Constitution and By-Laws of the Alameda Chamber of Commerce in the letter and intimated that he would question whether or not there was any Section 1, article 12 in the constitution.

TYPOS FIGHT OVER THE NEXT CONVENTION CITY

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Aug. 10.—One of the hottest fights in its history is being waged by delegates to the International Typographical Union over the selection of next year's convention. NEW EVIDENCE IN THE SUTTON CASE should dispel the last lingering suspicion in the public mind that Lieutenant Sutton's death was caused by his brother officers or that blame for it should attach to them," said Blaney.

Sergeant Todd Declares He Saw the Lieutenant Shot Down

The Other Side

Attorney Davis, in his statement regarding the introduction yesterday of letters written by Mrs. Sutton, declared that neither he nor his client, Mrs. Sutton, had learned, any historical record of those committed in advance to a support of the finding of the inquest—could see the least bearing of either the letters themselves or cross-examination on them upon the question at issue.

ANNAPOLIS, Aug. 10.—When the court of inquiry investigating the death of Lieutenant James M. Sutton Jr. opened its session here today there were several persons present than on any recent day, notwithstanding it was understood Mrs. Sutton Parker, Lieutenant Sutton's sister, would be placed on the witness stand and the great interest centers in what she may say, especially touching on interviews between herself and Lieutenant Adams.

The interviews were held shortly after the death of Lieutenant Sutton. Adams was on the stand today. Adams while he was on the stand indicated that Mrs. Parker had been very careful to remember what was said during each interview and also that Lieutenant Adams had little recollection of what passed at that time.

Cheerful Letters

Mrs. Sutton, the mother, recalled to the stand at the request of the court, Davis, identified two letters written by Lieutenant Sutton, one to her and one to her brother. They were cheerful, intimate and hopeful. The day before Lieutenant Sutton was shot and contained no hint that he meditated suicide.

Mrs. Sutton also identified a bill of lading as having been written by her son. She stated that she had no thought of suicide, but looked forward with pleasure to going around the world on the great cruise of the United States battleship fleet in 1910.

Charles H. Russell, attorney for the city, was called as a witness, and said that on October 1, 1907, he received from Lieutenant Adams a shirt, collar and cuffs, blood stained, one cuff having been torn at the right side of the shirt bosom having a small hole in the cuff. Russell was not cross-examined.

Mrs. Rose Sutton Parker, sister of Lieutenant Sutton, testified that she started for Chicago the day following her brother's death. She was advised by Col. Royce, commandant of marines, not to go, but she went. She said the condition of the head, which she said Colonel Royce said showed a number of cracks, and that she had seen the effects of her brother's and of sending them home to Portland.

Tells of Interviews

Mrs. Parker told of interviews in her room at Carvel Hall with several lieutenants. She said that she saw her brother, but he would not see her alone. He consented to a interview lasted six hours. Mrs. Parker started for Chicago the day following the death of her brother. She said she went for weapons, having declared she would kill Adams, Wiley and Osterman, and that she had the final encounter. Mrs. Parker said that she had been in danger. That Sutton would get me. Adams said that Sutton would get me. Adams said that Sutton would get me. Adams said that Sutton would get me.

After the interview, Adams, she said, started for Chicago. She said that she had told her brother that everyone in Annapolis believed he had killed Sutton. She said that she had told her brother that she would kill Adams, Wiley and Osterman. She said that she had told her brother that she would kill Adams, Wiley and Osterman.

The highest altitude attained was 18,975 feet.

JUSTICE TAPPAN WAS GOOD SAMARITAN AND PAYS FOR IT

Appealed Today to the Superior Court to Aid Him in Untangling a Skein of Trouble, Caused by Miss Burdick

Justice R. E. Tappan of Alameda is in a peck of trouble, all because of his charitable disposition and his inherent sympathy for suffering humanity. Today he appeared to the Superior Court to guide him out of the mess.

It is a strange case in which the well known Judge is involved and the manner in which he managed to become entangled is still more extraordinary. His petition in equity, which covers about twenty pages of typewriting, tells the story.

On June 15, 1907, Antonette L. Burdick of Alameda, 72 years of age and residing with her family in the Encinal City office and said that she had been living with her people. They compelled her to remain in her bedroom most of the time and would not speak to her for days at a time. Then she made a proposition to Tappan.

"I will send for some money coming to me from the United Workmen," she said, according to Tappan's complaint. "I want you to take that money when I come and keep it absolutely. It is for the reason that I need a present of it for anything that might happen to me. I want you to give me one of my immediate family to get one cent of my money which I may possess. I am fully satisfied that you would do the right thing by me because I have known you for many years and have the utmost confidence in your integrity."

Received $2000

About a month after this conversation the Grand Lodge of the United Workmen of California paid $2000 to Tappan at Mrs. Burdick's request, and then the attorney's troubles began in earnest.

Mrs. Burdick begged him to take her away from her people, saying that she would rather go to the poorhouse than remain longer with them. He permitted her to enter his own home until he could make other arrangements concerning her future care.

She immediately sent him a check for $2000 and finally made arrangements for her support for life in the Old Ladies' Dispensary Home of San Francisco, for the lump sum of $1000.

Mrs. Burdick also said that she had lived at the institution only a short time when she complained to Tappan against the management of the home, saying that her life there was a burden to her, that she would go to the use of the money she would stay there. Tappan investigated her complaints and found them to be groundless, but wishing to humor the old lady he took her back to his own home until he could make other arrangements for her care.

The Black Bottle

She entered the home in April, 1903, and remained there for a month. Then she grew weary of the life and wrote to Tappan, telling him that she could not stay there any longer. In her letter she said that she had been assaulted by one of the men who lived in the home and that she had learned that the home was a place where the black bottle was used.

Ferreted out Tappan explains the "black bottle" for the enlightenment of the court. "By the use of the word 'black bottle,' he says, 'is meant that when one becomes of little use to himself and no use to anybody else, and is a nuisance to the community, he is put in a black bottle. It contains some deadly poison, the contents of which, when drunk by an inmate or any other person, will cause death.'"

Burdick told Tappan that the black bottle was given to her by the man who had assaulted her. She said that she had given it to him and that he had given it to her. She said that she had given it to him and that he had given it to her.

Built Her Home

Going to the home to see Mrs. Burdick, Tappan agreed to make her a permanent home in Fitchburg and take her away from the refuge built in his house that cost $2500, he tells the court, but Mrs. Burdick could not wait until it was ready for her to get out of the Old Ladies' Home, so Tappan brought her back to Alameda and built her a home in his own home, until such time as she could be cared for in the Fitchburg residence.

During her stay at the Tappan house the time Mrs. Burdick became ill and the attorney was called in to attend to her medical attendance and a nurse for her. When she recovered, he charges, she started to raise Cain. During some of the nights that she was there Tappan would be suddenly awakened from his sound sleep by her striking chairs or making other uncanny noises. He would rush to her bedroom and find that it was necessary for him to lead her to another room.

Finally the day came for Mrs. Burdick to occupy the Fitchburg home, "where she could get plenty of sunshine, hear the birds sing and walk out in the open fields." Tappan took her there in an automobile and went away congratulating himself that he had finally placed his aged charge in what he supposed to be "her last home on this earth."

He fitted the house up handsomely, including some fine modern washbasins, and surrounded it with a beautiful garden of flowers. She loved fowls, so he stocked the rear yard with them, and he even went to the trouble of building for her a coal house on the premises.

He caused the bathroom to be enameled in white and had hot and cold water connections installed. He also installed a telephone and showed other little playthings upon her. He even purchased red ribbons to decorate her bedroom with, and what is more she used them.

Choicest Tidbits

Mrs. Burdick expressed a fondness for salmon, and Tappan supplied a quantity of that luxury. It could not be had in Fitchburg, so he had to import it from Alameda, where there is always an immense quantity on hand. Many times he sent her a tasty cupcake right out of his own oven and whenever he called

Where an Elevator Is Needed.

A large number of citizens have petitioned the Board of Supervisors to install an electric elevator in the Hall of Records. It is a convenience that should be supplied. The cost of installing an elevator will not be large and the county is not straitened for cash. Thousands of people climb the stairs in going to the Hall of Records each month, many of them aged and infirm. Every person having business there will appreciate the accommodation. Every day the need for an elevator is commented on.

No private concern of a quarter the magnitude of the Hall of Records would attempt to run its business without an elevator. That convenience would be regarded as indispensable. There is no reason why the county should treat the taxpayers worse than a private business house would treat them. People who are compelled to visit the Recorder's office on business should not be required to painfully toil up a long flight of stairs when the climb can be obviated by the installation of an elevator.

Nowadays all public buildings in large cities are equipped with elevators, which have come to be regarded as a necessary part of the equipment of all large business buildings. It has been found that elevators effect a great saving of time and effort, and there is no reason why the county should not avail itself of a convenience that is universally regarded as essential in private business.

The Supervisors would not be criticized for making an expenditure so necessary. On the contrary, public opinion would be disposed to praise the Board for providing so necessary a convenience. The elevator would be a convincing argument of its own utility and would justify the Board in the mind of every person riding on it. THE TRIBUNE hopes the Supervisors will grant the petition for an elevator.

Luther Burbank's Work.

Luther Burbank is neither a scientist nor a market gardener. He does not pretend to be either. His life has been devoted to the propagation and hybridization of useful and ornamental plants. He has never posed as the creator of any horticultural, floral or vegetable product, save as the developer through painstaking and intelligent methods of selection and crossing or hybridizing, of various fruits and vegetables, and he has produced practical results of immense value to mankind. He never attempted to make the commercial use of his discoveries that the professional market gardener has made of them. His attainments have been strictly practical, not scientific. He never attempted to give any scientific explanation for any of the results he has obtained. He was content to have the results speak for themselves and for the world to reap the benefit of them, and all of these have been the fruits of patient experimentation on strictly original lines, covering a long series of years.

Professor Wickson, of the University College of Agriculture, who has been one of the closest students of Burbank's life work, has pointed out that Burbank has no claims or pretense to scientific knowledge in the field in which he is working, and bears testimony to the great value of the results he has achieved by his plodding, patient and intelligent efforts, and that the Carnegie Institute's annuity was a recognition of the worth of his work and of the unselfishness of his purpose, and was granted to him so that he might follow up his experiments with total freedom from care. But the generosity of the Institute has apparently excited the envy of a group of scientists and market gardeners, neither of which seems to have produced anything of value to mankind, and they are viciously attacking him because he does not belong to either class. A man is known by his works and deeds. If Luther Burbank had produced nothing more than the potato which bears his name, his fame would be assured for all time. The Burbank potato has added enormously to the food resources of mankind and millions untold to the wealth of the country. Others have made fortunes out of the succulent tuber he developed through patient and intelligent effort. He gave freely to the world what he had thus produced, and profited financially little, if any, from it. How many of Burbank's critics can say the same thing for themselves?

When a man is down and out he gets used to being used to anything.

Uncle Joe Cannon is being charged with fresh crimes and misdemeanors. The latest indictment alleges that he is grateful for favors and loyal to his friends; and, shocking to say, the shameless old man doesn't even pretend to be innocent. He just laughs and lets the heathen rage. The specifications in the indictment now urged with great vehemence against him are that he has refused to give the Republican members who conspired to defeat him for re-election, and when they failed handed with the Democrats to deprive him of all authority, the choice committee assignments, but distributed the plums among his friends and supporters. According to the Crumpackers, Gardners, Murdockes, et al., this is regarded as evidence of black turpitude. They are astonished that the losers should not be given the pick of the spoils. Are they not men of superior virtue? Are they not the sole leaven that keeps the whole Republican cake from spoiling? Yet that hardened old sinner from Danville has set the whole bunch down on the dunce seats, thus giving further proof of his iniquity. All of which is very sad and disheartening. It is simply awful.

A San Francisco paper says Hency will supersede Langdon in the Calhoun trial as soon as he returns from his Oregon hunting trip. Are we to understand from this that Langdon is incompetent? Or has Langdon no say in the matter? Apparently the District Attorney is treated like a pawn in his own office by the men who have undertaken to run things in San Francisco.

The Oakland Chamber of Commerce bulletin for August shows that in the first seven months of the year 1908, 1012 vessels, having a tonnage of 477,481 tons, entered Oakland harbor, while for the same period this year 1308 vessels entered with an aggregate tonnage of 702,664 tons, the same being an increase of 296 vessels and 225,183 tons in tonnage. In the same seven months in 1908, 79,957,000 feet, beard measure, of lumber was landed on Oakland harbor's wharves, whereas, during the first seven months in 1909, 107,135,500 feet was discharged on them, showing an increase of 29,178,500 feet. These two facts bear eloquent testimony to the growth of Oakland's commerce and the building expansion which is taking place in the city and its suburbs, for nearly all of this lumber goes directly into building improvements.

As the small boy sees it, the man is a dunce who thinks there's no fun in a loud noise.

Promotion Work for Oakland.

The Oakland Chamber of Commerce has begun the publication of a monthly bulletin, the first number for August—having just been issued. The primary purpose of the publication seems to be to keep the members of the Chamber informed on its doings, but it will doubtless in time develop into a medium of far more usefulness and become ultimately an influential agent for the promotion and progress of Oakland's commercial interests and general welfare.

But what Oakland seems to want more particularly in order to promote its interests and advance its prosperity most successfully is an intelligent application of the promotion methods which have brought such big results to Los Angeles and Seattle. The latter has adopted the policy of spreading its fame abroad by extensive publication in the Eastern States and elsewhere as well as in its own newspapers and magazines. There is scarcely a newspaper or a magazine of high standing published on the eastern side of the continent which does not contain one or more advertisements exploiting Seattle's advantages for the investment of money at good rates of interest or in town lots that promise to multiply in value at an early date, or as an inviting field for establishment in business with flattering assurances of success. This kind of promotion has brought millions of dollars of Eastern money into Seattle for permanent investment. It is, in fact, Eastern money that has built up Seattle, not local capital, for before the promotion methods which are now being employed were adopted Seattle was a siltur and non-progressive city. The bulletin of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce shows that we have made but a limited use of Seattle's method of making itself known abroad. From June 1 to July 28, for example, 3251 requests for literature were received by the Chamber from the various States and Territories. California stands at the head of the list with 579 applicants, while New York—the great center of capital and population—sent only 380 applications. It is the great money and populous centers of the East that Seattle interested and that we should make a special effort to acquaint with the flattering inducements existing in Oakland. Oakland is well known throughout this State and throughout the Pacific Coast. Los Angeles was the first city on the Pacific Coast to introduce the system of self-promotion abroad. It was fortunate in having two railroad corporations which needed business to give it liberal assistance in the exploitation of its attractions of soil and climate as a land of perennial sunshine and the home of the orange. But Los Angeles had the sagacity to organize a home promotion bureau whose agents met every in-coming transcontinental train on its arrival and extended the glad hand of welcome to every stranger entering the city, taking pains later to see that he was properly steered and escorted to the show places of the city and neighborhood. This is a feature in home-promotion which Oakland has, up to the present time, neglected. This is the more remarkable because it must be known to every citizen who has noted the growth of Los Angeles that the personally conducted system of promotion among visiting tourists seeking health and recreation was and is the best winning card the southern city has played. It has been the means of inducing thousands of wealthy Easterners to permanently locate there and build for themselves costly and elegant homes. The Chamber of Commerce, Merchants' Exchange, Real Estate Dealers' Association and kindred organizations should get together and put the Seattle and Los Angeles promotion methods into operation for Oakland's advancement, for Oakland possesses in a still greater degree the natural and artificial attractions to capital and population which have been the "stock in trade" of those two cities.

Do not grumble about the weather; it does you no good and is sure to start somebody else at it.

It is only last year that Dr. David Starr Jordan gave notice that the sockeye salmon would soon be exterminated as a result of the wholesale annual slaughter to keep the canneries running and the absence of suitable means of artificial propagation. This year the sockeye have taken it upon themselves to refute the prediction, for no such run of this branch of the salmon family has ever been known to enter the Fraser river to reach the spawning grounds in British Columbia. The catch for the canneries located on the entrance to Puget Sound and on the Lower Fraser has never been as great as it is this season in the history of the industry and the packers are being driven to the limit. During the twelve hours ending at midnight Saturday 1,739,000 fish, valued at over $500,000, were taken in the traps and seines and landed at the canneries. The Fraser river "sockeye" pack this year will represent many millions of dollars to the packers, whose canneries are running night and day. The end of the great salmon rush from the sea to the spawning grounds is not yet in sight, as the strait of San Juan de Fuca is still crowded by the school from Cape Flattery to the lower reaches of the Fraser, up which stream millions untold of the fish that have escaped the traps and seines during the brief closed seasons of eighteen hours on the American side of the line and twenty-four hours on the Canadian side, are working their way to the spawning grounds.

The aeroplane flight records of the Wright brothers have been superseded by a French aviator, who remained in the air two hours, twenty-seven minutes and fifteen seconds. The Wrights are not likely to allow their record to be so eclipsed long. We may look for an early effort to be made by them to recover what they have lost through the Frenchman's achievements. It is all a question of endurance of men and machinery.

The principal objection urged against "near beer" is that it makes men too near drunk. It may be added that the sale of intoxicants under names which indicate their character but are marketed under a fraudulent pretense is humbug and hypocrisy. If liquor is to be sold at all, let the sale be licensed and regulated properly. It is worse than useless to pretend to prohibit liquor-selling and then allow intoxicants to be sold as temperance beverages or as medical preparations. Such subterfuges bring the law into disrepute and debauch public sentiment by pandering to cant and hypocrisy on one side and to vicious appetite on the other. If intoxicants are to be sold at all they should be sold openly, under their proper designation and in such manner as to bring the traffic under control, with responsibilities clearly defined. The term "near" as applied to drinks was invented to cover near compliance with the law. If public opinion would only be honest with itself and consistent in its demands there would be far less trouble with the liquor traffic than is encountered at present.

Prohibition seems to be spreading in the northern counties. By a majority of fifty-four Plumas county has gone dry.

United States PENSION ROLL Very Low

The United States pension roll is now at the lowest notch it has occupied for the past sixteen years. The forthcoming report of Commissioner Warner will show that there are now just 947,708 beneficiaries of the Federal pension system. This is the smallest number reported at any time since 1893.

A couple of years ago the pension roll reached the 1,000,000 mark. It remained there for a brief period of time only, as deaths resulting from old age quickly reduced it. The pension authorities believe that the list will shrink from now on unless Congress broadens the pensionable field by new legislation. It has been practically forty-five years since the Civil War ended. The grim reaper has cut down the veterans at a rate which ought to reassure the disciples of economy in governmental affairs who have opposed a generous pension system.

During the month of May there were 413 deaths among the pensioners. During the same month 2936 names were added to the list. The removals by death more than offset this gain, the net decrease for that month alone being 1466. The following table shows the variations in the pension list for the past twenty years. The cost of pensions in 1888 was $85,000,000; last year it was $155,000,000.

Year.	Number.	Year.	Number.
1888	452,557	1893	891,510
1889	489,755	1900	909,529
1890	537,944	1901	897,755
1891	576,160	1902	898,448
1892	576,068	1903	896,545
1893	586,012	1904	894,762
1894	589,544	1905	898,441
1895	576,524	1906	885,371
1896	570,619	1907	897,471
1897	576,014	1908	881,687
1898	598,714	1909	847,708

But one pensioner now remains on the roll on account of the Revolutionary War. She is Phoebe M. Palmer of West Edmondston, N. Y., and she is 88 years of age. She was the daughter of Jonathan Wooley, who served in a New Hampshire company under General Washington. She was pensioned by a special act of Congress. During the past few months a second surviving pensioner credited to the Revolutionary war passed away. She was Sarah C. Harburt, aged 91, who was a daughter of Elijah Weeks, who served in a Massachusetts company. The last surviving widow pensioner of the Revolutionary war was Esther S. Damon of Plymouth Union, Vt., who died on November 11, 1906, aged 92. The last survivor of the War of the Revolution was Daniel F. Bakeman, who died at Freedom, Cattaraugus county, New York, on April 5, 1869, aged 109 years, 6 months and 8 days.

The last surviving pensioned soldier of the War of 1812 was Hiram Cronk of Ava, N. Y., who died on May 13, 1905, aged 105 years and 16 days. The names of 471 widows of the War of 1812 remained on the pension roll on June 30, 1908.—Brooklyn Eagle.

BALLOONING

One kind of airships is all Wright. A balloon in the air is worth two in the sea. There's always room at the top—for a balloon. It is "all up" with a balloon when it comes down, BANG!

An aeroplane ought to be on the level, but sometimes it is not. A chauffeur may be naughty, but a balloon driver is aeronaughty. When an airship goes the drop on you, it's time to land.—Lippincott's.

One may have high times in a balloon, but everybody in sight knows about it. However much one may be displeased with a balloon, he doesn't want to "take a fall out of it."

Bachelor's Musings

Knowledge is power to think you know a heap more than you do. The way to write a good love letter is to be careful not to say anything rational in it. The only time a man takes much pride in being a pillar of the church is when he is running for a political office. No matter how long a woman has been married to a man she can keep on expecting that it's going to turn out better. No matter what a college boy's education costs, it's cheap to have him get over it. Just because a woman has yellow hair and black eyes is no sign she can't be deceptive. What makes a bachelor's life so lonely is not having things charged to him in all the shops. The reason the baby didn't talk earlier is it was smart enough to want to but couldn't learn. A woman has only two ideas of good dressing—to show how much she can put on and how little.

Humorous Snapshots

Mrs. Stubb—Oh, John, what in the world has happened to you? Why, you look as pale as a ghost. Mr. Stubb—No, wonder, Maria, I was out beyond my depth and went down three times before being rescued. During that time I remembered every event of my life. Mrs. Stubb—Gracious, John! And—did you remember that letter I gave you to mail last week?—Chicago News.

"Does your wife cry when she gets angry?" "Yes," answered Mr. Meekton. "It isn't the heat of her temper that distresses me so much as the humidity."—Washington Star.

Topics Timely and Interesting

Ice consumers everywhere will be interested in the news that the government is contemplating the manufacture of ice for the use of the various departments. The Postoffice Department in Washington has a complete ice-making plant and is turning out more ice than it can use. Secretary MacVeagh of the Treasury Department says that the ice costs 16 cents a ton, which is a big saving. The department uses a ton of ice every twenty-four hours in the water coolers throughout the big building. It has been paying private dealers $7.66 a ton. Under the new arrangement with the Postoffice Department the ice costs 65 cents, a saving approximately of $2800 a year. This at the rate of 30 pounds of ice for 1 cent, 150 pounds for 5 cents, 300 pounds for 10 cents or 750 pounds for 25 cents.

Shippers in the United States who are growing about freight rates may take comfort from the fact that a shipper in Sao Paulo, Brazil, has just paid freight amounting to $187.40 on 150 sacks of potatoes from Sao Paulo to Rio de Janeiro, or about $1.32 a bag for a haul of three hundred miles between the two principal cities of Brazil—a haul, from a tariff standpoint, which corresponds to one from New York to Boston. This rate is not exceptional, though perhaps higher than on most national products.

Fifty more colonels in Georgia, fifty more uniforms, fifty more notable citizens.

Imagined, if you please, a time when every family can have its own flying machine—a means of getting out for a day with as much safety as now attends the automobile or the old family horse. Wouldn't such a thing add a value to the world? Would it not enhance the pleasure of living to be able to take the wife and babies out for a spin in the sky, where the air is pure, where all of the earth is spread out before one even as it is spread before the eye of the eagle? Would it not add to the sun total of human happiness to take to the clouds as do the birds, and to have to consider neither the beaten highways nor the rocky barriers of the mountain ranges? Certainly it would, and just as certainly such time is rapidly dawning for the human race.—Springfield News.

In an article on the hygiene of smoking, published in the Munich Medical Weekly, Dr. J. Bamberger says that the injury which may follow the use of tobacco differs with the manner of smoking. Those who use a mouthpiece, or if not are careful not to keep the end of the cigar saturated with saliva, are much less apt to suffer from the absorption of the various products of the burning tobacco.

"Dry smokers" run much less risk of harming themselves than those who chew the ends of their cigars. Dr. Bamberger suggests that a bit of absorbent cotton saturated with chloride of iron be placed in the holder, and he claims by doing this some of the harmful products of combustion are rendered innocuous.

M. Marcel Prevost, the French novelist and the latest elected academicien, seems to be something of a Localist. He likes cretols, but "they must have been fasted for six months in a cage in my own house." A certain "estouffade de bœuf" seems a simple dish, but it "must have simmered slowly for two days." When M. Prevost has roasted saddle of lamb at home he will eat only lamb that has been brought up since birth by two ewes, "devoted entirely to the service of that one lamb."

The banana, a product exclusively of tropical countries, has come to be an important article of commerce and value, able for food, although comparatively a short time ago the fruit was almost unknown in this country. And the banana is sharing the experience which comes to other products. The business of importing has been overdone, and in some parts of the United States bananas are a drug in the market. But as a rule it may be said that when a food article is overabundant there is some compensation in the resulting cheapness.

FEEDING THE SOUL PRIOR TO FEEDING THE BODY

(BY E. H. ROOME.)

I also doubt if the beautiful creed written by Ella Wheeler Wilcox:

"So many gods, so many creeds,
So many ways that wind and wind,
While just the art of being kind
Is all the sad world needs."

could sufficiently satisfy if applied to one who is reduced to the sad circumstances, for instance, in which Mr. Emerson states were he in, he would purchase a hyacinth. For have not the most of us been compelled to adopt this more practical (but, I admit, less beautiful) creed?

"So many clothes, so many feeds,
So many taxes and so high rents,
That just the down right dollars and cents
Is what the sad world needs."

And after we have acquired these, are we not in a more receptive mood, or condition, if you will, to adopt the more real creeds, such as Mrs. Wilcox suggests and also indulge in Mr. Emerson's extravagance and buy hyacinths with which to feed our souls?

RAILWAYS Of the World; America Still Leads

America still continues, by a wide margin, to lead the world in the extent of its railway system. Out of a total of 594,867 miles of railroad in the whole world, 268,558 miles are located in North America.

This is but a very little less than the total mileage for the three continents of Europe, Asia and Africa; Europe having 199,355 miles, Asia 56,294 miles, and Africa 18,519 miles, a total of 274,168 miles for the old world. South America has a total of 34,911 miles, and Australia of 17,700 miles of railroad, which added to the figures for North America make a grand total for the new world of 320,669 miles.

The above figures from part of a report compiled by the Prussian ministry of public works, for the year 1907, which shows that, compared with the previous year, the largest percentage of increase is that of 985 miles or 6.7 per cent in Africa, followed by 7637 miles, an increase of 3 per cent in North America, and 2817 miles, representing an increase of 1 1/2 per cent in Europe. The greatest amount of construction in European countries was that in Russia, where 1255 miles of new track were built; France was next with 431 miles, and Germany built 411 miles. The largest additions in Asia were made in British India, where 509 miles were built, China coming next with 464 miles. In South Africa, the largest addition was in British South Africa, where the mileage was increased 5 1/4 per cent by the addition of 352 miles.

During the decade from 1897 to 1907 there was extraordinary activity in the building of railroads throughout the world, 140,137 miles of new railroad being built in that time, representing an increase of 23 1/2 per cent. The largest gain was in North America. The statistics of 55 per cent of the railroads owning the total mileage given above show that there is a total capital invested of nearly $42,000,000,000. If the same rate of cost has obtained in the railroads of which statistics were not available, the total output on railroads, from their inception to the present time, must be nearly $50,000,000,000. This would represent an investment of about $21.50 for each inhabitant of the globe at the present time.—Scientific American.

German Students

The number of students at the German universities continues to increase. There were 51,700 matriculated students this year, compared with 47,799 last summer. Of these 25,633 attended the Prussian universities. The chief increase took place in philology, medicine, natural science and especially in dentistry. There were 11,657 law students, 9642 in medicine, 13,911 in philology and history, and 7385 in mathematics and natural science. Berlin, as usual, heads the list with 7194. There were at Leipzig 4581, at Bonn 3861, Freiburg 2760, Breslau 2347, Halle 2110, Göttingen 2238, Heidelberg 2171, Marburg 2124, Tübingen 1921, Jena 1896, Munich 1647, and Würzburg 1369.—Athenaeum.

Railroad Must Pay For Jewels Lost on Train

KINGSTON, N. Y.—The disappearance of three valuable diamond rings and $20 in money from the dress suit case of Mrs. Julia M. Hasbrouck of this city while she was on a Boston and Albany train en route to Natick, Mass., was the subject of a suit recently tried before Supreme Court Justice Betts of Kingston, who handed down a decision in favor of Mrs. Hasbrouck for $1320.

Mrs. Hasbrouck is the wife of former Deputy Attorney General C. D. B. Hasbrouck. The diamonds and money were in the suit case at the Grand Central station when she finished a morning's shopping and boarded a train for Worcester.

Before reaching there she requested the conductor to send a trainman to assist her in alighting, and a few minutes later the trainman took her suit case and carried it to the end of the car, returning it when the train pulled into Worcester.

After she was aboard the Natick train Mrs. Hasbrouck discovered her loss.

"It is difficult to see what other precautions the lady could have taken or how there was carelessness or negligence on her part," says Justice Betts. "It was near the close of a long journey. The suit case was heavy and the fatigued lady desired assistance and applied to the representative of the defendant to send the trainman, whose duty it was to render such service. The defendant was guilty of gross negligence in not being able to carry a dress suit case forty or fifty feet and deliver it to the owner unharmed."—New York World.

HENEY'S GLORY MATERIALLY DIMMED

Columbus (Ohio) News.

Francis J. Hency received $23,000 last year from the government for pushing the San Francisco graft cases. It is estimated that Mr. Hency has been paid for his services in the timber land frauds and San Francisco cases something over $100,000, and it may be that Mr. Hency's services were well worth all that has been paid him by the government.

The fees paid him, however, total such an enormous sum that there are people in this country who cannot help but think that Hency's acceptance of these enormous sums was only another name for graft. Anyway, Hency has done about as well financially in his crusade against graft as he could have done had he not been engaged in the laudable occupation of crushing out crime in graft form.

When the financial benefit derived by a reformer from his crusade against vice is so large that it exceeds that which he could derive in ordinary cases, people are bound to puzzle their minds at what really was the moving cause.

At any rate, it materially dims the glory which would attach to an unspotted service in the interest of honest government.

Talkative Man Has Right-Sided Tongue

From the observation made by a physiognomist, it appears that the tongue when quite still can be as eloquent in giving its owner away as when it is wagging sixteen to the dozen. This is a hard fact for a silent man to swallow in silence. His only remedy is to keep well so as to obviate the necessary inflection of the doctor to put his tongue out, for by this thrust out sign the doctor shall know him.

The tongue of the talker when protruded inclines to the right side of the mouth, we are asked to believe, whereas it is seldom used tongue gravitates to the left side. Orators, preachers and barristers are endowed with right sided tongues. Very parsimonious persons have left tongues.

Furthermore, "the tongue when straight, without turning or wiggling, indicates a solid, reliable man." Tongues that turn up in impractical natures. A downward drooping tongue belongs to a person born to poverty, and a ready eye for the hopeless side of things.

"The cruel tongue fattens and broadens when extended. The delicate speaking organ with cupped up edges is the property of an imaginative and artistic being. When the tongue issues forth as if gripped in a dental vise, it signifies a love of life more than ordinary.

"Finally we are warned that the individual who thrusts forth his tongue to its extreme verge is a person to whom no secret should ever be confided, for he is an irresponsible chatterbox.—London Chronicle.

Where an Elevator Is Needed.

A large number of citizens have petitioned the Board of Supervisors to install an electric elevator in the Hall of Records. It is a convenience that should be supplied. The cost of installing an elevator will not be large and the county is not straitened for cash. Thousands of people climb the stairs in going to the Hall of Records each month, many of them aged and infirm. Every person having business there will appreciate the accommodation. Every day the need for an elevator is commented on.

No private concern of a quarter the magnitude of the Hall of Records would attempt to run its business without an elevator. That convenience would be regarded as indispensable. There is no reason why the county should treat the taxpayers worse than a private business house would treat them. People who are compelled to visit the Recorder's office on business should not be required to painfully toil up a long flight of stairs when the climb can be obviated by the installation of an elevator.

Nowadays all public buildings in large cities are equipped with elevators, which have come to be regarded as a necessary part of the equipment of all large business buildings. It has been found that elevators effect a great saving of time and effort, and there is no reason why the county should not avail itself of a convenience that is universally regarded as essential in private business.

The Supervisors will not be criticized for making an expenditure so necessary. On the contrary, public opinion would be disposed to praise the Board for providing so necessary a convenience. The elevator would be a convincing argument of its own utility and would justify the Board in the mind of every person riding on it. THE TRIBUNE hopes the Supervisors will grant the petition for an elevator.

He was content to have the results speak for themselves and for the world to reap the benefit of them, and all of these have been the fruits of patient experimentation on strictly original lines, covering a long series of years.

Professor Wickson, of the University College of Agriculture, who has been one of the closest students of Burbank's life work, has pointed out that Burbank has no claims or pretense to scientific knowledge in the field in which he is working, and bears testimony to the great value of the results he has achieved by his plodding, patient and intelligent efforts, and that the Carnegie Institute's annuity was a recognition of the worth of his work and of the unselfishness of his purpose, and was granted to him so that he might follow up his experiments with total freedom from care. But the generosity of the Institute has apparently excited the envy of a group of scientists and market gardeners, neither of which seems to have produced anything of value to mankind, and they are viciously attacking him because he does not belong to either class. A man is known by his works and deeds. If Luther Burbank had produced nothing more than the potato which bears his name, his fame would be assured for all time. The Burbank potato has added enormously to the food resources of mankind and millions untold to the wealth of the country. Others have made fortunes out of the succulent tuber he developed through patient and intelligent effort. He gave freely to the world what he had thus produced, and profited financially little, if any, from it. How many of Burbank's critics can say the same thing for themselves?

When a man is down and out he gets used to being used to anything.

Uncle Joe Cannon is being charged with fresh crimes and misdemeanors. The latest indictment alleges that he is grateful for favors and loyal to his friends; and, shocking to say, the shameless old man doesn't even pretend to be innocent. He just laughs and lets the heathen rage. The specifications in the indictment now urged with great vehemence against him are that he has refused to give the Republican members who have conspired to defeat him for re-election, and when they failed banded with the Democrats to deprive him of all authority, the choice committee assignments, but distributed the plums among his friends and supporters. According to the Crumpackers, Gardners, Murdockes, et al., this is regarded as evidence of black turpitude. They are astonished that the losers should not be given the pick of the spoils. Are they not men of superior virtue? Are they not the sole leaven that keeps the whole Republican cake from spoiling? Yet that hardened old sinner from Danville has set the whole bunch down on the dunce seats, thus giving further proof of his iniquity. All of which is very sad and disheartening. It is simply awful.

A San Francisco paper says Henry will supersede Langdon in the Calhoun trial as soon as he returns from his Oregon hunting trip. Are we to understand from this that Langdon is incompetent? Or has Langdon no say in the matter? Apparently the District Attorney is treated like a pawn in his own office by the men who have undertaken to run things in San Francisco.

The Oakland Chamber of Commerce bulletin for August shows that in the first seven months of the year 1908, 1012 vessels, having a tonnage of 477,481 tons, entered Oakland harbor, while for the same period this year 1308 vessels entered with an aggregate tonnage of 702,664 tons, the same being an increase of 296 vessels and 225,183 tons in tonnage. In the same seven months in 1908, 77,957,000 feet, board measure, of lumber was landed on Oakland harbor's wharves, whereas, during the first seven months in 1909, 107,135,500 feet was discharged on them, showing an increase of 29,178,500 feet. These two facts bear eloquent testimony to the growth of Oakland's commerce and the building expansion which is taking place in the city and its suburbs, for nearly all of this lumber goes directly into building improvements.

As the small boy sees it, the man is a dunce who thinks there's no fun in a loud noise.

Promotion Work for Oakland.

The Oakland Chamber of Commerce has begun the publication of a monthly bulletin, the first number for August—having just been issued. The primary purpose of the publication seems to be to keep the members of the Chamber informed on its doings, but it will doubtless in time develop into a medium of far more usefulness and become ultimately an influential agent for the promotion and progress of Oakland's commercial interests and general welfare.

But what Oakland seems to want more particularly in order to promote its interests and advance its prosperity most successfully is an intelligent application of the promotion methods which have brought such big results to Los Angeles and Seattle. The latter has adopted the policy of spreading its fame abroad by extensive publication in the Eastern States and elsewhere as well as in its own newspapers and magazines. There is scarcely a newspaper or a magazine of high standing published on the eastern side of the continent which does not contain one or more advertisements exploiting Seattle's advantages for the investment of money at good rates of interest or in town lots that promise to multiply in value at an early date, or as an inviting field for establishment in business with flattering assurances of success. This kind of promotion has brought millions of dollars of Eastern money into Seattle for permanent investment. It is, in fact, Eastern money that has built up Seattle, not local capital, for before the promotion methods which are now being employed were adopted Seattle was a siltarian and non-progressive city. The bulletin of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce shows that we have made but a limited use of Seattle's method of making itself known abroad. From June 1 to July 28, for example, 3251 requests for literature were received by the Chamber from the various States and Territories. California stands at the head of the list with 579 applicants, while New York—the great center of capital and population—sent only 380 applications. It is the great money and populous centers of the East that Seattle interested and that we should make a special effort to acquaint with the flattering inducements existing in Oakland. Oakland is well known throughout this State and throughout the Pacific Coast.

Los Angeles was the first city on the Pacific Coast to introduce the system of self-promotion abroad. It was fortunate in having two railroad corporations which needed business to give it liberal assistance in the exploitation of its attractions of soil and climate as a land of perennial sunshine and the home of the orange. But Los Angeles had the sagacity to organize a home promotion bureau whose agents met every in-coming transcontinental train on its arrival and extended the glad hand of welcome to every stranger entering the city, taking pains later to see that he was properly steered and escorted to the show places of the city and neighborhood. This is a feature in home-promotion which Oakland has, up to the present time, neglected. This is the more remarkable because it must be known to every citizen who has noted the growth of Los Angeles that the personally conducted system of promotion among visiting tourists seeking health and recreation was and is the best winning card the southern city has played. It has been the means of inducing thousands of wealthy Easterners to permanently locate there and build for themselves costly and elegant homes. The Chamber of Commerce, Merchants' Exchange, Real Estate Dealers' Association and kindred organizations should get together and put the Seattle and Los Angeles promotion methods into operation for Oakland's advancement, for Oakland possesses in a still greater degree the natural and artificial attractions to capital and population which have been the "stock in trade" of those two cities.

Do not grumble about the weather; it does you no good and is sure to start somebody else at it.

It is only last year that Dr. David Starr Jordan gave notice that the sockeye salmon would soon be exterminated as a result of the wholesale annual slaughter to keep the canneries running and the absence of suitable means of artificial propagation. This year the sockeye have taken it upon themselves to refute the prediction, for no such run of this branch of the salmon family has ever been known to enter the Fraser river to reach the spawning grounds in British Columbia. The catch for the canneries located on the entrance to Puget Sound and on the Lower Fraser has never been as great as it is this season in the history of the industry and the packers are being driven to the limit. During the twelve hours ending at midnight Saturday 1,739,000 fish, valued at over $500,000, were taken in the traps and seines and landed at the canneries. The Fraser river "sockeye" pack this year will represent many millions of dollars to the packers, whose canneries are running night and day. The end of the great salmon rush from the sea to the spawning grounds is not yet in sight, as the sun of San Juan de Fuca is still crowded by the school from Cape Flattery to the lower reaches of the Fraser, up which stream millions untold of the fish that have escaped the traps and seines during the brief closed seasons of eighteen hours on the American side of the line and twenty-four hours on the Canadian side, are working their way to the spawning grounds.

The aeroplane flight records of the Wright brothers have been superseded by a French aviator, who remained in the air two hours, twenty-seven minutes and fifteen seconds. The Wrights are not likely to allow their record to be so eclipsed long. We may look for an early effort to be made by them to recover what they have lost through the Frenchman's achievements. It is all a question of endurance of men and machinery.

The principal objection urged against "near beer" is that it makes men too near drunk. It may be added that the sale of intoxicants under names which indicate their character but are marketed under a fraudulent pretense is humbug and hypocrisy. If liquor is to be sold at all, let the sale be licensed and regulated properly. It is worse than useless to pretend to prohibit liquor-selling and then allow intoxicants to be sold as temperance beverages or as medicinal preparations. Such subterfuges bring the law into disrepute and debauch public sentiment by pandering to cant and hypocrisy on one side and to vicious appetite on the other. If intoxicants are to be sold at all they should be sold openly, under their proper designation and in such manner as to bring the traffic under control, with responsibilities clearly defined. The term "near" as applied to drinks was invented to cover near compliance with the law. If public opinion would only be honest with itself and consistent in its demands there would be far less trouble with the liquor traffic than is encountered at present.

Prohibition seems to be spreading in the northern counties. By a majority of fifty-four Plumas county has gone dry.

United States PENSION ROLL Very Low

The United States pension roll is now at the lowest notch it has occupied for the past sixteen years. The forthcoming report of Commissioner Warner will show that there are now just 847,708 beneficiaries of the Federal pension system. This is the smallest number reported at any time since 1893.

A couple of years ago the pension roll reached the 1,000,000 mark. It remained there for a brief period of time only, as deaths resulting from old age quickly reduced it. The pension authorities believed that the list will shrink from now on unless Congress broadens the pensionable field by new legislation. It has been practically forty-five years since the Civil War ended. The grim reaper has cut down the veterans at a rate which ought to reassure the disciples of economy in governmental affairs who have opposed a generous pension system.

During the month of May there were 4113 deaths among the pensioners. During the same month 2836 names were added to the list. The removals by death more than offset this gain, the net decrease for that month alone being 1466. The following table shows the variations in the pension list for the past twenty years. The cost of pensions in 1888 was $2,000,000; last year it was $155,000,000.

Year.	Number.	Year.	Number.
1888	452,557	1893	931,510
1889	489,725	1900	935,229
1890	537,944	1901	917,753
1891	676,100	1902	929,445
1892	576,958	1903	866,545
1893	566,025	1904	924,702
1894	569,544	1905	928,441
1895	570,524	1906	935,371
1896	576,678	1907	967,371
1897	576,014	1908	951,037
1898	598,714	1909	947,708

But one pensioner now remains on the roll on account of the Revolutionary War. She is Phoebe M. Palmer of West Johnston, N. Y., and she is 88 years of age. She was the daughter of Jonathan Wadley, who served in a New Hampshire company under General Washington. She was pensioned by a special act of Congress. During the past few months a second surviving pensioner credited to the Revolutionary war passed away. She was Sarah C. Eubank, aged 91, who was a daughter of Elijah Weeks, who served in a Massachusetts company. The last surviving widow pensioner of the Revolutionary war was Esther S. Damon of Plymouth, Utah, who died on November 11, 1908, aged 92. The last survivor of the War of the Revolution was Daniel F. Bakeman, who died at Freedom, Cataraugus county, New York, on April 5, 1869, aged 109 years, 6 months and 5 days.

The last surviving pensioned soldier of the War of 1812 was Hiram Cronk of Ava, N. Y., who died on May 13, 1905, aged 105 years and 16 days. The names of 471 widows of the War of 1812 remained on the pension roll on June 30, 1908.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Topics Timely and Interesting

Ice consumers everywhere will be interested in the news that the government is contemplating the manufacture of ice for the use of the various departments. The Postoffice Department in Washington has a complete ice-making plant and is turning out more ice than it can use. Secretary MacVeagh of the Treasury Department says that the ice costs 55 cents a ton, which is a big saving. This department uses a ton of ice every twenty-four hours in the water coolers throughout the big building. It has been paying private dealers $7.55 a ton. Under the new arrangement with the Postoffice Department the ice costs 65 cents, a saving approximately of $200 a year. This at the rate of 30 pounds of ice for 1 cent, 150 pounds for 5 cents, 300 pounds for 10 cents or 750 pounds for 25 cents.

Shippers in the United States who are growing about freight rates may take comfort from the fact that a shipper in Sao Paulo, Brazil, has just paid freight amounting to $137.40 on 150 sacks of potatoes from Sao Paulo to Rio de Janeiro, or about $1.32 a bag for a haul of three hundred miles between the two principal cities of Brazil—a haul, from a tariff standpoint, which corresponds to one from New York to Boston. This rate is not exceptional, though perhaps higher than on most national products.

DESPONDENT MAN COMMITS SUICIDE

OUT OF WORK, 5 CHILDREN STARVING, HE DIES

Unable to Get Employment
Retired Saloonkeeper
Shoots Himself

LEAVES HIS FAMILY
IN NEED OF FOOD

Pitiful Story is Told by Woman as to Cause of the Tragedy

Despondent over his own and his wife's ill health, Paul Yost, a retired saloon-keeper of Yreka, arose from the table after breakfasting with his wife and five children this morning and going down into the basement of their home, 727 Myrtle street, sent a bullet crashing through his brain.

The frightened family hearing the shot, summoned the police. Officer Crompton, who answered the call, broke in the door, to find the suicide laying full length on the rough board floor in a pool of blood. He was breathing faintly, but died less than an hour after on the operating table at the Receiving Hospital, where he was rushed in an effort to save his life.

The fatal bullet entered Yost's temple, tearing out his right eye, frightfully disfiguring his face. The gun, a .33 caliber Colt's revolver with which he committed the deed, was found by his side.

Widow's Pitiful Tale

Stricken by a series of misfortunes, running the gamut of troubles, homelessness, poverty and ill health, the dead man's widow told a pitiful tale of want and privation, following the discovery of the tragedy today.

"We came here several weeks ago in an effort to make a living," she said. "Mr. Yost was in the saloon business at Yreka for many years, but at last, owing to ill health, he has been failing steadily and we were forced to sell out six months ago. Most of our ready money went in the payment of debts and we came here with a little over $100 in our possession."

Searches For Work

"My husband has searched conscientiously for work since coming here but without avail. My own ill health has prevented my assisting him to any great extent and I know that he was frequently driven almost to despair in the effort to provide food for us."

"He arose early this morning and ate breakfast with the rest of us, leaving the table he went out into the back yard and I presume into the basement. We none of us saw him again until the officers broke in the door and we found him on the floor."

Yost told no one of his intention, though the act was evidently premeditated. He left no message of any kind for his stricken family. His watch and a small amount of money, he apparently fully taken from his pocket and laid on his wife's dresser were afterwards found.

Leaves Family of Five

Yost leaves a family of five children, the eldest of which is a girl of 11 years, while the youngest is only three years old.

The body was removed to the morgue this morning following the man's death at the Receiving Hospital where it will be held pending an inquest. The Associated Charities have been asked to look after the destitute family, and it is probable that some temporary provision will be made for the widow and little ones, pending a definite settlement of the case.

BABE PULLS DOWN KETTLE FROM STOVE; SCALDED TO DEATH

BERKELEY, Aug. 10.—The childish curiosity of 14-month-old Amelia Matus, of 1215 Haskell street, to see what the steam came from through the lid of a kettle scalded her to death. The baby pulled the kettle from the stove, causing the scalding water to fall on her face and neck. The child died after a few hours of suffering and was buried last night. The accident happened during the time when the mother's attention was called elsewhere. Dr. Wallister was summoned and found the little girl almost dead. The body was this morning removed to the morgue and an inquest set for August 18.

OFFICERS CLAIM THAT BOARD IS 'FIXED'

General Lauck Orders the Examination of National Guard Officials

ALL CONCERNED THINK
DISMISSAL IS OBJECT

Trouble Arises Over Support of Infantrymen Who Oppose
Joining Artillery

Captain J. C. Nagle, First Lieutenant William H. Mott and Second Lieutenant C. C. de Wolfe of the First Company, N. G. C. State Coast Artillery, and Lieutenant A. C. Young and Second Lieutenant J. C. Collett Third Company, today received official notices from Adjutant General J. D. Lauck to appear before an examining board, a "benzene board" tomorrow evening, August 11, at the headquarters of the Coast Artillery Corps, for the purpose of interrogation with respect to their military qualifications for retaining their respective positions, although it is the opinion of the officers involved that they are to be summarily dismissed regardless of the examination.

Last night the officers received authentic reports of the intentions of the board, and were advised to send in their resignation prior to the receipt of the summons; but after a brief consultation they decided to face the investigation and the "dubbed out," rather than leave and thus apparently desert the men of the company who had signed the petition for a return to an infantry company.

The idea of the "benzene board," or what the interested claim to be a "fixed board," is to put the officers and men back to back and force them to choose between Lauck to install such officers as will break the will of the men and thus eliminate the supposed insubordination in the ranks. General Lauck leaders upon endeavoring to follow the regular army method of impetuous command, but the proposition is not practical in the guardsmen, it is claimed, for the reason that they are all to a certain extent equal to one another in business and other matters. The men must have a voice in regulating the affairs of the company.

Cause of Trouble

The trouble started when the infantry company, which had for years studied and become proficient in their duties, were ordered to change to the artillery service in order to comply with a recent law which required a certain number of artillery companies. The men deemed the transfer unfair and accordingly sent a petition to the Governor to be returned to the old branch. If the petition is not granted they will resign. The officers in question have displeased the officials because they upheld the men and intend to stand by them.

There is no doubt at all among the men as to what will be the outcome of the examination tomorrow evening; the various officers will be dismissed, and consequently the resignation of the enlisted men will follow, it is believed. The officers on the board are: Colonel John W. Guthrie, N. G. C., retired; Lieutenant Colonel Paul M. Nippert, aide de camp, staff of commander in chief, and Major Hammond I. Follmer, adjutant general's department.

Board of Education Has No
Authority in Matter, Declares
Judge Graham

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 10.—The efforts of the San Francisco Board of Education arbitrarily to dictate to the teachers in the school department where they shall reside and forbidding them to take up their abode outside the city and county were baffled this morning by a decision handed down by Superior Judge Graham.

Order Passed

It was on March 18 that the order was passed by resolution and was to take effect at the opening of the school term a week ago.

When the matter came up for hearing before Judge Graham City Attorney Long, on behalf of the Board, entered a demurrer claiming that the facts set forth in Mrs. Stuart's application for a restraining order did not constitute a sufficient basis for a court action. The matter was argued at length, and this morning Judge Graham rendered his decision in which he overruled the demurrer of the City Attorney, and gave him ten days in which to answer the petition in which he so desired, although claiming that there was no legal basis for the order passed by the Board of Education.

Court's Opinion

"While in the opinion of the Court all employees of the City and County of San Francisco, as well as those of the school department, should be residents, still, it is clear that the Board of Education is without authority to enforce the resolution adopted." Thus does the Court decide, and the decision is final. The only manner in which local municipal employees could be compelled to reside on this side would be by resolution or an amending of the charter on the part of the Board of Supervisors.

TRY TO FORCE OFFICIAL OUT

Plot to Defeat San Anselmo
Bond Issue, Declares Prominent Citizen

SAN ANSELMO, Aug. 10.—Following the attempt to affect the resignation of Trustee W. B. Jones last night at the meeting of the Town Board of Trustees here, the accusation has been made by A. L. Adams, a taxpayer, and well known citizen of this place, that the entire investigation was instituted by certain taxpayers who were attempting to defeat the proposed bond issue of $13,500.

Adams says that the enemies of Jones were those who had opposed the bond issue when it first came up for discussion, and that in destroying confidence in Jones they hoped to turn the people against the entire board and thereby defeat the project.

Jones stated this morning that he would fight the attempt to affect his resignation to a finish and that he would not resign, as he had done nothing wrong. The majority of the people seem to favor Jones, and a vote of confidence was given him last night at the meeting, at which there were only two dissenting voices out of 150.

DEBT IS DOUBLED IN TWO MONTHS

Judgment is Given Against Leading Man For Lillian Russell

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 10.—Judgment by default was rendered this morning against Frank Sheridan, leading man for Lillian Russell, a prominent actress, in favor of the Kaiser Collection Agency, in the sum of $12,000. It will be remembered that Sheridan's baggage was attached and he was arrested on complaint of Oscar P. Peterson of Oakland, when he was last here supporting the favorite star.

At that time he was hurriedly allowed to leave Judge Cahoon's court in time to catch a train for Sacramento, where the company was to play that night.

A promise was made that everything would be squared up, but the matter was still pending, and in default this morning of the appearance of the defendant, judgment was given to the collection people for the amount named. In two short months, it has nearly doubled, the original check being $224 and the balance having been spent in an effort to locate an asset in the shape of a wandering trunk and compound interest on the principal.

Congressman Knowland, Back From Washington, Tells of California's Tariff Victory

STATE FAVORED IN THE PAYNE MEASURE

New Bill is an Honest, Downward Revision, Says Representative

TO TAKE A NEEDED
REST OF TWO WEEKS

Tells of Seeing Wright Brothers
Sail Their Aeroplane
at Fort Meyer

ALAMEDA, Aug. 10.—Congressman Joseph R. Knowland returned on the Overland Limited last evening after spending more than eight months in Washington in attendance at what was practically a continuous session of Congress, beginning the first week in December and closing on August 5. After attending to a few urgent matters of public and private business, Representative Knowland will leave town for at least two weeks of complete rest. In talking with newspaper representatives Congressman Knowland said:

"Every member of Congress left Washington completely tired out and thankful that the session had at last terminated. Few delayed their departure when the final hour arrived. For instance, the House adjourned at 5:38 p. m., and at 5:45 I boarded the Manhattan Limited of the Pennsylvania system for California. A few members attempted to beat even this record, leaving the day before. Unfortunately for them they were intercepted by a representative of the sergeant-at-arms at the union depot, whereupon they decided to wait over a day."

Senate Disposes

"Since the fifteenth of March, Congress has been considering tariff legislation. When the extra session convened it was confidently predicted that an adjournment would be had by June first, but man may propose while the Senate disposes. There is no rule of closure in that body, and one or two members can hold up a measure for an indefinite period. This was what took place."

"While the heat was unbearable, the debates tiresome and the long delay exasperating, those of us who had never passed through a tariff revision gained not a little valuable information. We were not long in learning that there was a large class of representatives who were strong for downward revision insofar as it affected the other fellow, but when it came to the products and industries of their own states they were quite frequently advocates of upward revision. Even many of our Democratic friends never failed, when the schedules were before the Senate or House, to vote against downward revision where their respective localities were concerned. As a sort of easement to their consciences they would declare that they were voting for the Democratic principle of a tariff for revenue only."

When the bill was on its final passage and many of the Southern Democrats had obtained the protection they sought for the growing industries of their states, they cast their votes against the bill, but hoping and praying that it would become a law."

Honest Revision

"The Senate made 847 amendments to the bill as it passed the House, which is about the number that body made to the Dingley bill. As it now stands, upon our statute books the Payne bill is an honest downward revision. Otherwise it would never have received the approval of President Taft."

"An analysis of the law demonstrates the facts as above stated. The following table shows the consumption value of articles on which rates of duty have been increased and decreased in all cases where amounts of production can be ascertained:

Schedule	Duty Decreased	Duty Increased
Schedule A—Chemicals, oils, paints, etc.	$433,000,850	$11,105,820
Schedule B—Grains and cereals	128,472,712	11,432,255
Schedule C—Metals and Manufacturers of	1,348,200,169	21,250,372
Schedule D—Lumber	500,870,820	890,903,393
Schedule E—Sugar	890,903,393	4,340,643
Schedule F—Tobacco	No change	4,340,643
Schedule G—Agricultural products	453,480,057	402,901,886
Schedule H—Wines and liquors	41,623,024	804,445
Schedule I—Cotton	11,127,145	106,745,640
Schedule J—Flax, hemp, jute	22,127,145	81,486,400
Schedule K—Wool	No statistics	1,770,428,005
Schedule L—Silk	7,947,509	101,538,598
Schedule M—Paper and Pulp	67,023,053
Schedule N—Sundries	1,770,428,005
Total	$4,978,122,124	$852,512,625

Of the above increases the following are luxuries, being articles of strictly voluntary use:

Schedule A—Chemicals, including perfumes, pomades and like articles	$11,105,820
Schedule B—Wines and liquors	402,901,886
Schedule L—Silk	106,745,640
Total	$1,515,452,346

"Bearing the figures just quoted in mind, the people of this state have reason to congratulate themselves on the fact that upon no purely California product was a single reduction made. With a cry for downward revision sweeping over certain sections of the middle West and East, with the members of the Ways and Means committee of the House and the finance committee of the Senate besieged to make reductions in duties, the California representatives in Congress were most fortunate in not alone retaining present duties upon the products of this state, but, more than this, in a number of instances securing increases. It was a matter of general comment in Washington among members that California fared better than any other state in the Union. We were fortunate in having a representative on the Ways and Means committee, Congressman Needham, and on the finance committee of the Senate, the junior Senator, Frank P. Flint. Back of them was a united California delegation."

Rates of Duty

"The following rates of duty upon California products were finally agreed upon by the committee on conference: Oranges, 1 cent per pound; lemons, 1 1/2 cents per pound; hops, 18 cents per pound; figs, 2 1/2 cents per pound; plums, prunes and prunellas, 2 cents per pound; raisins and other dried grapes, 2 1/2 cents per pound; Zante currants, 2 cents per pound; olives, in bottles, jars, kegs, tins or other packages, containing less than five gallons each, 25 cents per gallon; almonds, not shelled, 4 cents per pound; clear almonds, shelled, 6 cents per pound; dried fruits, 2 cents per pound; still wines in casks or packages other than bottles or jugs, if containing 14 per centum or less of absolute alcohol, 45 cents per gallon; if containing more than 14 per centum of absolute alcohol, 60 cents per gallon; in bottles or jugs, per case of one dozen bottles or more, containing not more than one quart, or twenty-four when bottles of larger capacity.

"Among the raises are hops, lemons and wines. The strongest fight was put up against the lemon schedule, the large New York importers taking a hard for a lower rate. The new rate on lemons, an increase from 1 to 1 1/2 cents per pound, will, it is confidently claimed, result in a great revival of the lemon-growing industry in California, resulting in the setting out of thousands of additional acres of trees."

Taft's Visit

CRAIG DROPS PROSECUTION OF FORMER ACTRESS

Mrs. Mary Castle, Who Fired
Shot, Will Likely Be
Liberated Today

ATTORNEY HAS TALK
WITH WOMAN'S BROTHER

Intended Victim of Shooting
by Californian Asks That Life Be Spared

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—Through the intervention of powerful friends, Lawyer William B. Craig was persuaded yesterday afternoon to agree to drop the prosecution of Mrs. Mary Scott Castle, who attempted to shoot him in the Waldorf-Astoria hotel last Tuesday afternoon. Through it will be necessary for the woman to appear this morning before Magistrate Butts in the Jefferson Market police court to waive examination, it can be said with authority that nothing further will be heard of the shooting incident unless the district attorney forces Craig to lodge a complaint with the grand jury, which is unlikely.

Craig's decision to drop the prosecution of the woman came as the result of several prolonged conferences between him and Captain Henry Harrison Scott of the United States army, Mrs. Castle's brother.

Two Are Friendly

The report that the two men were so unfriendly they would not speak to one another is entirely unfounded, and from information which reached Craig yesterday it can be stated positively that Craig and Captain Scott spent many hours Sunday and yesterday, seeking to arrange things so that Mrs. Castle would be spared as much as possible and Craig would be assured that no further attempt would be made on his life. When the case came up yesterday before Magistrate Butts, Craig, representing Captain Scott, asked for an adjournment on the plea that he expected to get back from the woman and that as soon as he did so further examination would be waived. Judge Butts granted the adjournment, on condition that the woman be released until today. In the afternoon of the day before, Craig, who was present, a little stage play was enacted in which it was made to appear for the benefit of the newspaper present that Captain Scott would not talk to the man whom his sister had attempted to shoot. Craig played his part very well and everybody who watched them was duly impressed.

Fear Further Scandal

But when Mrs. Castle had been taken back to her cell every one concerned gathered at a convenient meeting place and the situation was discussed. Captain Scott was not backward in acknowledging that his sister was a woman of the lowest type and was pressing him to arrange matters so that no further scandal would develop. In the afternoon of the day before, Mrs. Castle was found willing to sign a temporary bond for $500 and Mrs. Castle was released until today.

Back to Sanatorium

Mrs. Castle has been an inmate of a sanatorium and it was said last night she probably would be taken back to the same place or to some other private institution where she will have the quiet and comfort necessary to regain her health.

When she left the prison Mrs. Castle looked very pale and careworn and refused to say a word concerning her affairs.

Three Injured in Drunken Brawl

INFERIAL, Cal., Aug. 10.—A drunken brawl occurred in Bradley last night in which a number of men and a negro woman participated. Frank Siefert was hit on the head with a lighted lamp and received burns from which he cannot recover. Another man, name unknown, was probably fatally injured and a third man was seriously hurt. Two men and a woman fled across the line into Mexico. Infernal district was the only one of the eight districts in the state where no stop was to be made, we won out, the time being taken from Portland.

Saw Wright Brothers

"One of the things that in part compensated me for the long stay in Washington was the privilege" continued the Congressman, "of witnessing the two official flights of the Wright brothers in their wonderful aeroplane. I was present when Orville remained in the air with a passenger for one hour, twelve minutes and forty seconds, and also witnessed the flight of his brother to Alexandria and return with a passenger. It seems almost uncanny when the great machine flies over your head, the propellers making a great noise."

The Congressman expressed himself as never before being as pleased to return to the state. After a couple of weeks of rest he will fill a number of local lecture engagements and then make a tour of the state in his official capacity as grand president of the Nat. Sons of the Golden West.

MORE HELP FOR CITY ATTORNEY

Ordinance Introduced at Council For Another Assistant to Aid With the Work

An ordinance was introduced last night establishing the position of assistant city attorney and deputy city attorney and fixing the compensation of the assistant at $200 and the deputy at $150 per month.

The work of the legal department has become very burdensome with the growth of the city, but up to the present time no increase has been asked for in the way of deputies. Assistant City Attorney O'Brien has been overworked with work but did not complain. His superior in office, John W. Stetson, however, realizing the amount of work his assistant has been doing, decided to ask for an increase in his office by one deputy.

The ordinance was referred to the finance committee.

ASKED FOR ELECTROLYSIS ON TELEGRAPH AVENUE

True to his promise made in the Board of Public Works, City Engineer Turner caused a petition to be presented to the city council last night requesting that electrolysis be placed on Telegraph avenue from Twenty-second street to its northern extremity.

When the petition was read it caused a buzz in the council chambers, in as much as it has been called the electrolysis of the city. The various members of the council that a few more electrolyses will deplete the city treasury.

Councilman Elliot rose to the support of the petition. He stated that the electrolysis of the city is a matter of public utility and should be maintained at one-half of the cost of the present light. In that event the question of having electrolysis on Telegraph avenue is not out of the question by any means, but is highly practical.

Chairman Pendleton, however, referred the matter to the public utility committee.

REGULATE NICKLEDEONS BY CITY ORDINANCE

Prosecuting Attorney Ezra Decora forwarded a communication to the city council last night requesting that the city fathers frame an ordinance regulating the nickelodeons and penny arcades of the city by putting them under license system, the power to revoke the same being vested in the Board of Works or the city council.

The occasion for this application was the discovery by City Attorney Wilson that a "stunt thing" game was being conducted in a place near the Southern Pacific depot on Seventh street. Unlawful travelers were lured into the room by music and were afterwards approached by "cappers" and taken into the back rooms, where they were robbed. The prosecuting attorney stated that owing to the lawlessness of the nickelodeons, he could do nothing in two recent cases, but urged the passage of an ordinance whereby the line of one of these pitfalls might be terminated at will.

PLAN TO CUT DOWN THIRD STREET SIDEWALKS

An ordinance was introduced at a meeting of the City Council last night by City Engineer Turner having for its purpose the widening of the roadway on Third street by cutting the sidewalk on the sidewalk down. The engineer of the Western Pacific made it inconvenient for teams to pass at the present time. He felt that the sidewalk from sidewalk feet to twelve feet it will have the effect of widening the street to the full extent. The ordinance was referred to the ordinance and judiciary committee.

15,000 VOLTS FIXED AS LIMIT FOR WIRES

An ordinance limiting the voltage to be carried by any electrical wire to 15,000 volts was introduced at a meeting of the City Council last night. The measure has for its purpose the prevention of power companies from carrying high tension wires through the city, which would be dangerous to property and to life. The ordinance was referred to the ordinance and judiciary committee.

S. P. FRANCHISE HEARING GOES OVER

Mayor Mott Requested Adjournment So That Compromise Could Be Made

The hearing of the application of the Southern Pacific Company for a franchise on Franklin and Webster street went over two weeks at the request of Mayor Mott last night. While as yet there has been no petition filed protesting against the proposed franchise, there are some who believe that the property will be damaged by permitting the Southern Pacific to run electrical trains down Franklin street.

Attorney John J. Allen and A. Baker, representing the Southern Pacific Company, stated that they were ready to go ahead at the present time, but Mayor Mott suggested that it would be better to exhaust all effort in the way of compromise any difference that might exist before proceeding with the hearing. With the understanding that the matter will come up definitely two weeks hence the Southern Pacific officials present consented to the continuance.

SWEDISH STRIKE MAY BE FAILURE

Street Car Employees Call Meeting to Discuss Going Back to Work

STOCKHOLM, Aug. 10.—Calm prevails throughout the country this morning and there are further evidences that the general strike inaugurated a week ago will result in failure.

Efforts are being made with some success to improve the local street car service and the street car employees have called a meeting to consider a proposal to return to work.

The strikers given them until noon tomorrow to take up their old positions. The merchants of Stockholm have announced their intention of "running the city" service will be resumed soon. Foreign steamers are overhauling the strike by bringing with them their own stewards.

There are 20,000 strikers at Gothenburg, in this city the strikers control all the vehicles.

LABOR UNIONS ARE TO WELCOME S. GOMPERS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—In honor of the return in October of Samuel Gompers, who has been in Europe studying continental labor conditions, the labor organizations in the Eastern States will unite in a monster parade in this city if the plans adopted by the Central Labor unions of this city at a meeting last night are carried out. October 15 is the day fixed for the celebration. The labor unions of Richmond, Philadelphia, Baltimore will be invited to send as large delegations as possible. The day will culminate with a meeting in Convention Hall.

Robb Uncle's House; JAILED

Mrs. Abbie Treadwell of San Francisco Among Victims of Young Thief

TOLEDO, Ohio, Aug. 10.—A burglar, recognized as a relative of the owner of the house, broke into the residence of William Powell of Perryburg early yesterday morning and threatened with a revolver the lives of Powell, his seventeen year old son, Frank, and Mrs. Abbie Treadwell of San Francisco, a cousin of Mrs. Powell.

He forced Mrs. Treadwell to give him a diamond ring valued at $750, which she wore and then, after stealing $50 from a child's bank on her bureau, fled.

Awakened by Noise

Mrs. Treadwell said she was awakened by a noise and was confronted by a man standing at her bedside with a revolver leveled at her head.

After threatening to kill her if she made any outcry, the intruder ordered her to give him the diamond ring. She obeyed and the man, still keeping her covered with his revolver, walked over to her bureau and rifled the child's bank. Then, after threatening again to kill her if she gave any alarm, he left the room and closed the door.

As the burglar stepped into the hall Powell and his son, who occupied rooms next to Mrs. Treadwell, awoke and jumped out of bed to investigate. They were confronted with the revolver, and the burglar kept them at bay until he got out of a window.

Arrests Nephew

Powell recognized the burglar as his nephew, who resided across the river, and had him arrested. Mrs. Treadwell's ring was recovered.

Mrs. Abbie Treadwell is well known in California. She was the widow of "Jimmy" Treadwell, the millionaire mining man of Alaska fame when she married Dr. Walter C. Hall of Petaluma. Mrs. Hall was at one time defendant in a suit brought in Los Angeles county by Mrs. Mae Peoples, who asked $10,000 for alienation of her husband's affections. Charles Peoples, the husband, at that time was the manager of the Oakland Hotel at Arcadia. Last May a final decree of divorce was granted in Santa Rosa to Dr. Hall.

WONDERFUL MINERAL SPRINGS
To his report to the California State Medical Society on "The Mineral Springs of California," Winslow Anderson, M. D., the well-known physician and surgeon, chemist, says of Mark West Springs: "The largest spring has a flow of 1000 gallons per hour. This is a sparkling, carbonated water, very palatable and gently aperient in its action. It is much used in dyspepsia arising from too free alcoholic stimulation, with the concomitant liver and kidney disorders. It is said to have vastly benefited patients suffering from chronic Bright's disease. A tonic and the sulphur spring for catarrhs of the bladder, rheumatism, and other ailments." The temperature of the largest spring, which supplies the baths, is 52 degrees Fahrenheit. For further particulars call at 948 Market St., (room 221), 753 Market St., 2044 Broadway St., or address J. STILL SEEKING
MURDERER OF GIRL

Mother Thinks it Was an Employee of Cemetery Where Girl's Body Was Found

ROCHESTER, Aug. 18.—The murder of Annie Schumacher, whose body was found hidden in a secluded spot in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery partly covered with earth and leaves, was still a mystery when the coroner's inquest began today.

The autopsy proved that criminal assault was the motive for the crime and that the victim fought her assailant. Mrs. Schumacher, mother of the girl, in a statement to the press, expressed her conviction that Annie was slain by an employee of Holy Sepulchre Cemetery. Several girls have recently been followed by men working in the burial ground.

DRANKS
PALMETTO

The great stomach and kidney restorative. Just one dose of Palmetto taken daily for a week or two has been known to cure some of the most obstinate diseases of the STOMACH, LIVER and KIDNEYS.

We know it will produce just such radical cures. We have seen it tested in absolute chronic cases, in fact, cases where every other known treatment had failed and in none of them did Palmetto fail to produce speedy and lasting cures; these same people are as healthy and strong to-day as they ever were in their life.

Lame back, headaches, shooting pains in the shoulders, quivering of the flesh, indigestion, no appetite, pains after eating, etc., any one or all of these symptoms indicate stomach or kidney troubles and treatment should not be delayed. We guarantee that one bottle of Palmetto will do more genuine good in such cases than all other medicines you have ever taken combined.

We guarantee every bottle; if it fails to cure, take the empty bottle back to your druggist and get your money back.

Bright's Disease. Drake's Palmetto cured me of Bright's Disease. I have bought and given away four 75c bottles to my neighbors. Wm. D. Sweet, Pleasant, N. Y.

Indigestion and Catarrh. Your Palmetto has cured me of indigestion, constipation and catarrh of the head. I shall never be without the grand medicine. Mrs. L. Boyd, Boston, City, Ark.

RUSSIAN DRAMA
IS GREAT SUCCESS

"Michael Strogoff" Enthusiastically Received by Broadway First-Nighters

"Michael Strogoff," that Russian drama of such powerful human interest, was the offering last night at the Broadway Theatre—an offering that for completeness of detail, accuracy of presentation and gorgeousness of scenery and costumes, has never been surpassed. Produced by the Broadway company, which has been producing the most successful plays of the season, it is a masterpiece of dramatic art.

Of course the central figure throughout is Strogoff, played with much strength by Landers Stevens. He was ably supported in some trying bits of acting by Miss Cooper, a Nadia, and Miss Woodhouse as Maria Strogoff. The first scene is in the palace of the Czar, where the Czar has a banquet given in honor of the Russian ambassador. The Czar is a fair, pink-faced young man, who is an attractive enough to make that monarch's job not so bad as it would seem. They appear later in "The March of the Amazons," presenting an assortment of light blue lights in this interesting spectacle.

Scene of Horror
It is in the first act that Strogoff sets off on a message to Garcia, errand, over a rough road beset by enemies. He is demanded his life, but compromised himself by running a red-hot sword across his eyes. It was this scene that sent such a shudder through the audience—a terrible scene, but so well acted as to rob it of anything in the nature of a grotesque horror.

There are six acts in the play, mainly taken up with the terrible journey of Strogoff, but through which hustle the newspaper correspondents, an Englishman (Maurice Stewart) and an American (Roy Clement). They did some splendid comedy work and some tragedy, as for instance when they killed off a whole mess of Tartars in the fifth act. It was a good job, filling the air with smoke and the sound of many shots.

Like the Villain
At the fourth act, where the Emir of Bokhara is celebrating a victory over the Russians, the march of the Amazons took place. There are also introduced at that time two specialties, one by the other by Ruth Ormsby, a child who won the hearts of all by her clever song and dance. She also won an immense bouquet that nearly upset her when she took it over the footlights.

"Michael Strogoff" will continue this week, with matinee Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday. It will be followed by "The Three Musketeers."

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is sold on a guarantee that if you are not satisfied after using two-thirds of a bottle according to directions, your money will be refunded. It is up to you to try. Sold by Osgood's drug stores.

Automobile News

Leaving New York on August 18, the first "transcontinental" organized war car, with official dispatches, the destination being San Francisco, will start on its way. The United States government, always quick to realize the advantages of the modern inventions, has seriously taken up both aerial navigation and the practical adoption of a high-class automobile for the purpose of warfare.

The car chosen will be known as the Mitchell Ranger, a four cylinder Mitchell touring car, and the first of the 1910 models to be turned out by the Mitchell Motor Car Company, at Racine, Wisconsin. It is a regular 1910 stock car, there being no extra equipment, mechanically. Its clearance, roadability, motor and handling features are especially adapted to the roads and trails that will be followed.

Major General Leonard A. Wood, commanding the Department of the East, has prepared a dispatch which is to be delivered into the hands of the General John P. Weston, commander of the Department of California, by M. E. Parrott, of Poughkeepsie, a private in the New York State National Guard. Parrott is a trained soldier, an enthusiastic automobilist and a graduate of a military school whose training has been strong along the lines of field operations. Parrott and his crew will wear the regulation uniform of the army service, and on the hood of the car will be a large sign stating the mission of the car. A fixed route has been drawn, which will take in most of the prominent army posts on the way, but a few detours will be made in order to touch at others. The route followed will, however, be much as that taken by the New York to Paris racers.

Frank X. Zerbes, the well-known driver, will be at the wheel of the "war car" during the entire distance. Zerbes is now on his island, New York City, to San Francisco.

Stearns-Loce Race Sunday

The event that is occupying the attention of the motorists of the south at present is the big 300 mile race to be held next Sunday. The Locomobile and the Stearns will again wage war for supremacy, and for a purse of $10,000. This is the largest that has been offered in the history of modern automobilism.

Challenging and counter-challenging, has at last resulted in the naming of the date and place of the event. The race will be in the hands of a stakeholder.

Each man is confident of winning, and fast time is sure to be the outcome, whichever car is victorious. This is practically the third competition between the two cars.

In the first meeting, the Locomobile carried off the honors, over a 150-mile course, winning the Elks trophy. The second race was made in the recent Santa Monica road race, Frank Free in the Stearns, won out.

"The rubber now, and war to the death," is the slogan on both sides. Free, who has established a national reputation as a racer, while the Stearns is the Locomobile, and Charles Soules, a former partner of Barney Oldfield, will pilot the Stearns.

The race will begin at 10 o'clock sharp, and it is estimated, taking the speed of the cars into consideration, the event will be over about 4 o'clock in the afternoon. It is the intention of a number of local enthusiasts on both sides of the bay to make the run to Los Angeles to witness this speed war.

Regal Plugger Due

P. M. Jones, local agent for the Regal car, reports that the "Regal Plugger," which is making the run across the country, will reach this city on Wednesday afternoon or Thursday morning.

The car has made very good time considering the many difficult weather conditions encountered, which have put the roads in all imaginable shapes.

Big Tour Proposed

From the south comes the word that the progressive motorists of that section are making plans to hold a tour which will outline the famous Golden Gate of the eastern side of the continent. It is proposed to make the route extend from Los Angeles to Seattle and return, which will present all sorts and conditions of roads and obstacles, and will prove as strenuous, if not more so than this year's Golden Gate.

An effort is being made by the enthusiasts at the head of the proposition to interest the dealers, and if the event is held under the auspices of the automobile clubs, it is believed that fifty or more cars will participate. The present plans as to date place it in the early part of October.

Los Angeles is so encouraged by the success of her big race that she is anxious to try her ability in this more strenuous contest, and thus a western automobile classic would be established.

It is certain that should such an event be pulled off, it will make a name for the southern motorists, making it a tour of the motorists of the entire State.

Two new cars have made their appearance on the coast. These are an American and the American-Simplex. Until permanent quarters are secured and a garage placed, these cars will be on exhibition at the Auto Library Company at Golden Gate and Van Ness avenues.

The touring department of the automobile association of Great Britain recently secured passports for one of its members who has planned a tour through France, Germany, Belgium, Austria, Switzerland, Italy and Spain. His passport will enable the tourists to pass over the frontiers of the countries named without having to stop and make deals with customs officials. Touring bodies of the associations of the East and of California should endeavor in some way to secure such papers, which would alleviate all sorts of trouble when their members make an European tour.

Mrs. J. R. Ramsey, who so successfully piloted her Maxwell car across the continent with three women companions, left yesterday evening on her return trip. This time Mrs. Ramsey will make the quicker route, going by train, to her home in Hackensack, New Jersey. Miss Johns also left for the South but Mrs. Howell and Mrs. Atwood will spend several weeks visiting the points of interest in

NEW TRAINS SOON
TO REACH HERE

Western Pacific Expects to Be Operating Sometime
This Fall

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 18.—That the Western Pacific Railroad Company's trains will soon be running to San Francisco bay is evidenced by the fact that Vergil Hogue, vice president and chief engineer of the company, yesterday called on President Stanford of the Harbor Commission and asked that representatives of his company be permitted to hold a conference with the commission at an early date to agree on plans for the new ferry house to be built by the company.

The Western Pacific expects to have its road in operation by this coast some time this fall. It will not be possible to have the new ferry house completed in time to accommodate the road when it begins operation, and temporary arrangements will be made, President Stanford stated yesterday, for its accommodation.

The building will be placed just south of the ferry building in the rear of what is now the ferry postoffice. The Harbor Commission will permit the company to make suggestions, but the date for a conference has not been set.

CATHOLIC SOCIETIES WILL DISCUSS DIVORCE
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 18.—The American Federation of Catholic Societies, for the purpose of discussing the question of education and social subjects. The divorce question will come up tomorrow. Tonight a public mass meeting will be held in Carnegie Music Hall.

UTAH TO BAR FRUIT
WITH SAN JOSE SCALE
The Oakland Chamber of Commerce is in receipt of a communication from the State Board of Trade calling attention to the fact that that body has received an official letter from the State Inspector of the Utah Agricultural Commission of Utah. This is of interest to every grower and shipper of fruits in California and is as follows:

"SALT LAKE CITY, July 29, 1909.
"Gentlemen: I beg to call your attention to the fact that the Utah Agricultural Commission, which has been established by the work of the codling moth, and San Jose or other scale insects.

"We feel that you are deeply interested in this matter, inasmuch as these insects have a considerable fruit coming from your State into our markets. It is not our desire in executing this law to work any hardships on the fruit growing interests and as there are a number of markets which will take this class of fruit, this market can be avoided. The law will be rigidly enforced here, and no doubt by giving this publicity among our fruit growing interests, you will save considerable trouble and expense to your shippers who might unknowingly send fruit infected here.

"It is our desire to co-operate with all shippers, and assist them in every way possible, and thus avoid loss through condemnation. Kindly let us hear from you.

"Very respectfully
(Signed) J. EDWARD TAYLOR,
"State Inspector."

NEW TRAINS SOON
TO REACH HERE

Western Pacific Expects to Be
Operating Sometime
This Fall

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 18.—That the Western Pacific Railroad Company's trains will soon be running to San Francisco bay is evidenced by the fact that Vergil Hogue, vice president and chief engineer of the company, yesterday called on President Stanford of the Harbor Commission and asked that representatives of his company be permitted to hold a conference with the commission at an early date to agree on plans for the new ferry house to be built by the company.

The Western Pacific expects to have its road in operation by this coast some time this fall. It will not be possible to have the new ferry house completed in time to accommodate the road when it begins operation, and temporary arrangements will be made, President Stanford stated yesterday, for its accommodation.

The building will be placed just south of the ferry building in the rear of what is now the ferry postoffice. The Harbor Commission will permit the company to make suggestions, but the date for a conference has not been set.

CATHOLIC SOCIETIES WILL DISCUSS DIVORCE
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 18.—The American Federation of Catholic Societies, for the purpose of discussing the question of education and social subjects. The divorce question will come up tomorrow. Tonight a public mass meeting will be held in Carnegie Music Hall.

DISAGREABLE AT HOME.
Lots of men and women who are agreeable with others, get "cranky" at home. Its not disposition, its the liver. If you find in yourself that you feel cross around the house, little things worry you, you buy a bottle of Ballard's Kidney and Bladder Pills. You and every body around you will feel better for it. Price 50 cents per bottle. Sold by Wishart's drug store, corner Tenth and Washington streets.

UTAH TO BAR FRUIT
WITH SAN JOSE SCALE
The Oakland Chamber of Commerce is in receipt of a communication from the State Board of Trade calling attention to the fact that that body has received an official letter from the State Inspector of the Utah Agricultural Commission of Utah. This is of interest to every grower and shipper of fruits in California and is as follows:

"SALT LAKE CITY, July 29, 1909.
"Gentlemen: I beg to call your attention to the fact that the Utah Agricultural Commission, which has been established by the work of the codling moth, and San Jose or other scale insects.

"We feel that you are deeply interested in this matter, inasmuch as these insects have a considerable fruit coming from your State into our markets. It is not our desire in executing this law to work any hardships on the fruit growing interests and as there are a number of markets which will take this class of fruit, this market can be avoided. The law will be rigidly enforced here, and no doubt by giving this publicity among our fruit growing interests, you will save considerable trouble and expense to your shippers who might unknowingly send fruit infected here.

"It is our desire to co-operate with all shippers, and assist them in every way possible, and thus avoid loss through condemnation. Kindly let us hear from you.

"Very respectfully
(Signed) J. EDWARD TAYLOR,
"State Inspector."

After Mysterious Separation Mrs. Houseworth Seeks Divorce

MRS. FREDERICK A. HOUSEWORTH, Who Filed Suit for Divorce Late Yesterday Afternoon in San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 10.—There is to be no longer any mystery as regards the relationship which exists between Frederick Houseworth and his wife, Dorothy K. Houseworth, for the reason that the latter yesterday evening filed a suit for divorce from her spouse in the Superior Court, alleging wilful neglect.

Houseworth is a stockbroker, a man of means and a favorite in some of the exclusive circles in this city and on the other side of the continent. His wife is a most beautiful woman and when the marriage took place ten years ago there were those who envied the prospects of the couple for a happy and prosperous life.

Love Grown Cold

But it seems that this is another case of love grown cold a feeling which, there has been reason to believe, has been the experience of the twin for a considerable length of time.

For some time past there has been coming and goings of husband and wife and there have been indications that one was independent of the other and that there was, in the company of the woman, at least one gentleman whose acquaintance it was thought would cause the husband to take the initiative in proceedings for divorce, but the sequel shows that the latter was beaten to the forum by the spouse.

The man whose name came into unpleasant notoriety with the wife was Martin Vele, a prominent consulting engineer of New York, who was an acquaintance of both Houseworth and his wife. It is stated that after there had been a separation between the Houseworths and they had elected to live in different parts of the city, and, indeed, in the State, Mrs. Houseworth made a trip to New York for the purpose of meeting Vele.

Names on Register

The acquaintances of the Houseworths kept their eyes, however, on the latter and learned that after Mrs. Houseworth and her sister, Miss Vele, in New York, Vele registered for her at the Georgian Hotel as follows: "Mr. and Mrs. D. K. Houseworth" and "Miss Inogene Krick."

The register spoke for itself and when it was scanned and the identity of the man who did the writing was disclosed, there was a story put in circulation to the effect that the meeting of the personages and the writing in the register denoted an elopement.

There were some mutual friends of Vele and Houseworth who did not hesitate to declare, in the presence of Vele, that the circumstances warranted that construction being put upon it, but Vele denied that anything of the kind was contemplated and really laughed at the intimation, declaring that he and Houseworth were friends and, further, that Houseworth and his father-in-law had broken Mrs. Houseworth good bye at the Oakland mole.

As Friend of Family

The latter story was a surprise, but has never been verified and is doubted because of the known separation which had taken place between husband and wife. At the time that Vele registered as referred to, Houseworth was not in New York and Vele declares that in so registering the divorce he was simply acting as a friend of the family. In response to questions on the subject Vele said:

"Mrs. Houseworth and her sister, Miss Krick, are going to Europe, where Miss Krick is to take up the study of music. Mrs. Houseworth will be the chaperone. "It was for friendship of Fred and his wife that I registered for them both, and I want to say that those persons who have been talking about an elopement are spreading malicious falsehoods."

Trip Long Contemplated

The story, it is reported by D. B. Krick, the father of Mrs. Houseworth, who for several terms, was State Superintendent of Education in California. He declares that his daughters were going to Europe and that they had counted on the trip for several years and that the tale of elopement was all nonsense.

A similar denial was made regarding the alleged separation on the part of the mother of the woman, but the mother later admitted, after her daughters had gone east, that there had not been the happiest of home life between her daughter and the latter's husband.

SPOOKS LED TO DIVORCE COURT

Jenner Said His Wife Made Him Change His Residence 12 Times in One Year

Spooks and the lies of a fortune teller caused Josephine R. Jenner to make Harry S. Jenner's life so miserable for him that he was driven to the divorce court, with the result that he has just obtained a final decree from his wife.

According to the testimony in the case, Mrs. Jenner compelled her husband to change their place of residence twelve times in less than a year, because she declared the houses were haunted and refused to live in them.

A fortune teller told Mrs. Jenner that her husband was bestowing his affections upon a certain married woman, whereupon she made her spouse all kinds of trouble.

He had to do a whole lot of explaining to the husband of his alleged infidelity, and he told the court that his wife was so insanely jealous of him that he was always in hot water.

CITY ATTORNEY WILL FORCE STREET ACTION

If a compromise is not effected within a short time, in the so-called opening of First street eastward of Harrison street, City Attorney Stenson will take action.

The proceeding was determined on last night. Councilman Elliot asked that the matter be taken from the street committee to where it was referred at the last meeting of the Council. This was done by a vote of seven ayes to four nays.

The ayes were — Bonner, Cobbleick, Elliot, Everhardt, Stiefvater and President Pandleton.

The nays were — Baccus, MacGregor, Stachler and Vose.

STREET COMMISSION IS GIVEN MORE TIME

The street commission appointed last February to condemn and open a portion of Fourteenth street near Fallon street, last night asked the City Council for 180 days more in which to complete its labor.

Councilman Ellsworth was opposed to granting any extension beyond ninety days.

NIGHT'S DELAY IN WEDDING PLANS

Oakland Milliner Finally Married After Law Delays Her

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 10.—Martin Homer Saylor of 3076 Twenty-sixth street has had an exciting time since late yesterday afternoon. It has all ended happily, however, for this morning he was united in marriage to Miss Ellen Auguste Berg, a milliner of 878 Nineteenth street, Oakland, and immediately afterward the young couple left on the overland for a tour of the east.

The wedding would have occurred yesterday, or at least the license to wed would have been taken out yesterday. Instead of this morning shortly before train time, only for the fact that Saylor was unfamiliar with the law, it being his first attempt.

Late yesterday afternoon he hurried into the office of Chief Marriage License Clerk "Cupid" Munson and asked for the paper permitting him to take Miss Berg as his wife.

"Cupid" had been known to go the limit to accommodate both young and old couples, but he is a stickler on the law, which requires that when a license is issued the bride-to-be must be present and take the oath as to age and facts.

Miss Berg did not accompany Saylor, and "Cupid" apologized for his seeming severity, but could do nothing.

Lives in Oakland

Miss Berg resided in Oakland and was not on this side of the bay. That made no difference to "Cupid"—the license was issued.

Saylor quit the office in disgust. But this morning, bright and early, he was back and with him was Miss Berg, and two suit cases. All was in regular order this time and the license was issued and handed to the groom.

In return Saylor tendered a $20 gold piece to liquidate the damage, but it was too early for change.

Miss Berg came to the rescue and paid the bill, with the remark:

"I am accompanied by a sweet smile. Saylor admitted that already he was convinced he could not do without Miss Berg, and, grabbing his two grips, hurried to the elevator and into the street, where together they sought a diversion minister to the end before train time.

At they left "Cupid" Munson congratulated the couple as only his long experience makes it possible to do, and wished them well.

YOUNGER VETERANS OPEN CONVENTION

Philippine and Foreign Service Men Ready For Their Annual Meet in Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH, August 10.—Awakening from their slumbers at Camp Alexander L. Hawkins early today by the notes of the bugle that sounded "taps" for the Spanish flag at Santiago and greeted by their comrades of days in the Philippines and foreign countries as they emerged from their tents, the delegates to the convention of the Army of the Philippines and the veterans of foreign service commenced their first day's session here today.

Both organizations are national in character and a motion is on foot to amalgamate them this week. It is also planned to organize a woman's auxiliary, General S. M. D. Young (retired) is expected to arrive today; he is the regional representative of President Taft.

TOMALTY, THROUGH HIS COUNSEL, ASKS FOR TRIAL

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 10.—James C. Tomalty, the young bookkeeper, accused of the misappropriation of $30,000 from the treasurer's office, is clamoring for a trial through his counsel, Attorney Cosmides, today.

PLUMBER ARRESTED

W. F. Supra, a plumber, was arrested today on a charge of violating the plumbing ordinance, the information being filed against him by Sanitary Inspector E. J. Smith. The accused man is alleged to have done a defective piece of plumbing for the Palms Hotel in East Oakland.

My!

but we've been busy

(low prices will sell anything—add "Breuner quality" and it means a rush)

Our window sale has met with tremendous success: while we have twice as many salesmen as any other furniture store in Oakland, we could not wait upon the crowds—the manager, the advertising man, the furniture selector, the floorwalker and the stock man were pressed into service to help record the sales in order to keep our well know service up to standard.

Don't stay away on this account; we have made arrangements to accommodate the additional patronage resulting from this sale.

Our 12 big show windows are full of bargains—we are not afraid to say "bargain" because we know they are bargains, and if you look in our windows you will realize that now is the time to save money on good, dependable furniture.

It's our semi-annual clearance sale handled in a new way; instead of asking you to go through the seven floors of this big establishment to see the articles on sale, we have placed them in the windows, where you can note the reduced prices and inspect the quality before you even enter the store—we are letting the low prices sell the goods. Come and look in the windows.

CONBOY'S VICTIM WILL BE CRIPPLE

Barney Lagan Leaves St. Francis Hospital For His Home—Case Adjourned

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 10.—Barney Lagan, the victim of former Captain of Police Michael J. Conboy, who shot him on Fillmore street on June 22, has left the St. Francis Hospital, and has been removed to the home of his sister. The attending physician states that the victim's ultimate recovery will be a matter of time, but it is probable he will remain a cripple from the effect of the bullet, which shattered his spine.

Conboy appeared for his preliminary examination before Police Judge Conlon this morning, but the case was continued until August 25, owing to the absence of a complaint against him. By that time it is expected Lagan will be able to appear in court against the former police officer.

TRIES TO ENTICE GIRL FROM HOME

Thelma Coney Gives Police Description of Man Who Accosted Her

ALAMEDA, Aug. 10.—The police are searching for an unknown man who, it is alleged by Thelma Coney, 1725 Buena Vista avenue, tried to lead her from her home. The child is but twelve years of age and has given the police a very complete description of the man.

Little Thelma states that she was on her way to a grocery at the corner of Grand and Minutun streets when the man accosted her. He offered to purchase candy and when she refused the man followed her to other stores where she had errands to do.

Not satisfied with the child's persistent refusals the man insisted upon following her home, where she sought refuge. He then disappeared. His age is given as about twenty.
